INTRODUCTORY NOTE.

The present Volume comprises the first portion of the detailed Abstracts of the Returns which have been made under the authority of the Act for taking the Seventh Census of England and Wales.

The various Tables show the numbers of the Population and of the Houses enumerated on 8th April 1861, as well as their distribution over the country in the Counties, Hundreds and other similar divisions, in Cities and Towns, Poor Law Unions and Registration Districts, Parishes, Townships, and Ecclesiastical Districts. The Abstracts yet to be presented will exhibit the Ages of the people, their Occupations, Birthplaces, and Condition as regards Marriage, the numbers of the Blind and Deaf and Dumb, and some other particulars. All the heads of this important inquiry are so closely connected with each other that one class of facts cannot with advantage be discussed apart from the rest. It has therefore been deemed unadvisable to offer any observations on the details comprised in the following Tables. When the analysis of the whole of the Returns is completed, and all the facts are brought together in a comprehensive form, the Report on the general results of the Census will be presented.

The kind of information obtained at the recent Census in England and Wales was the same as in 1851, but no Returns respecting the attendance at schools and places of religious worship were asked for; and no change of any importance was made in the machinery of the enumeration.

The Census in Scotland was taken for the first time under the Registrar General of that part of the United Kingdom, and through the agency of the local Registrars appointed under the Act, which came into operation on 1st January 1855, for the Registration of Births, Deaths, and Marriages in Scotland. The Scottish officials were supplied with the English Forms and Instructions which admitted of being easily adapted for use in Scotland, and facilities were afforded for carrying out the directions given by Secretary Sir George Lewis, with a view to secure, as far as possible, the same uniformity in the mode of procedure as had been attained upon former occasions when the Census of the whole of Great Britain was conducted under one Department.

The first series of the following Tables (Part I.) gives the particulars of the number of Houses and of the Population in the several Counties, which are alphabetically arranged. Under each county are returned the aggregate numbers for the Hundreds and other similar divisions, and for the Sub-divisions of Lieutenancy as constituted for the purpose of raising the Militia quotas: details follow relating to parliamentary as well as municipal Cities and Boroughs, and to Towns of more than 2000 inhabitants. Another Table shows the number of inhabited houses and of persons in each parish or place which is separately assessed for the relief of the poor,—the parishes being placed in alphabetical order as most convenient for ready reference when the single fact of population is in question.

The Clerks of the Peace revised the proofs of their respective Counties in Part I.; which it is believed will be particularly useful to the Magistrates, and to all who are concerned in county business.

In the second series of Tables (Part II.) the particulars are arranged according to Registration Districts or Poor Law Unions, under the groups of these districts, called Registration Counties or Union Counties. This arrangement, which coincides with that adopted in the Population Tables of 1851, is indispensable for inquiries connected with the public health or with the determination of the proportion of births, deaths, and marriages to the general population,—and indeed for all purposes involving the necessity of comparing the results of the Census with the statistics obtained in the Departments of the Poor Law Board and the Registrar General. A comparative view is given of the population and of the number of houses in 1851 and 1861, in parishes and townships, with occasional details relating to hamlets and other places comprised therein, but not separately returned in Part I. This is followed by supplemental Tables of the new district parishes and other ecclesiastical districts formed under the authority of recent Acts of Parliament,—of the principal public institutions, of the number of persons on board vessels in the ports, of the area of water included in parish areas, of the number of births, deaths, and marriages registered in the ten years 1851–60, and of other particulars. The Tables are printed so as to be complete for each of the eleven divisions into which England has been divided for the convenience of statistical investigation. This will allow of the separate publication of Divisional Parts, which may be procured at a small expense by persons desiring to obtain the details for their own and adjoining counties, without being compelled to purchase a bulky and costly volume relating to the whole of England.

Part III. relates to the Channel Islands and the Isle of Man, where the Census was taken under the respective Lieutenant-Governors on the same plan as in England.

In compliance with the Census Act, which required that an Abstract of the Returns should be laid before both Houses of Parliament within a year of 1st June 1861, a statement of the unrevised numbers of houses and of inhabitants in England and Wales, and in each of the Counties, Districts, or Unions and principal Towns, was presented on 7th June 1861. Owing to the labour bestowed on the revision of the original returns, and the large amount of correspondence which has been found necessary in order to procure correct information as to the boundaries of the various and complex local sub-divisions of the country, the completion of the present volume could not have been effected at an earlier period without neglecting some of the checks essential to the accuracy of the details. Great difficulty has been experienced in obtaining materials for the return of more than 1,800 Ecclesiastical Districts and new Parishes, the exact limits of which are known to few persons in the locality except the incumbents; and although those gentlemen have examined the statements to be published, and have afforded much valuable assistance, the numbers must in some cases be regarded as approximative only.

The Abstracts now in the course of preparation will be presented collectively; and as they involve the classification and tabulation of many millions of separate facts several months must still elapse before their publication.

AN ALPHABETICAL INDEX will include the names of the Counties, Hundreds, Sub-divisions of Lieutenancy, Cities, Municipal Boroughs, Parliamentary Boroughs, Unions, Districts, Sub-districts, Parishes, Townships, Ecclesiastical Districts, and all places of which the population has been separately returned. For convenience in use the Population is given in every case.

The Population Tables of Scotland have been presented to Parliament, and the number of the inhabitants of Great Britain according to the Census of 1861 is subjoined. For Ireland only an approximate statement of the population has yet been published.

NOTE.—Where the minus sign (—) is used it signifies that the numbers, instead of augmenting, have decreased to the extent shown by the figures before which it is placed.
The Table is read thus :—The increase of the population of Leicester-shire was 20,477 persons in the interval between the Census of 1801, when the population enumerated was 130,032, and the Census of 1811, when the population enumerated was 150,559, and so on for the other periods. In reading the increase of population it should be borne in mind that the Military were for the first time included in 1841, and the Royal Navy and Merchant Seamen in 1851.

* In taking the increase in England and Wales collectively, from 1831 to 1841, 5,016 persons (4,130 males and 886 females) travelling by railways and canals, and not ascribed to any county, are included in the return of the total population of England and Wales for 1841, but not in any of the details. Hence the sums of the fourth and fifth columns make the totals by adding 5,016 to the fourth, and subtracting 5,016 from the fifth.

NOTE.—In computing the per-centage of increase between 1831 and 1841, the Military, included for the first time in the population given for the latter year, are left out of the account. So also, in computing the rate of increase between 1841 and 1851, the seamen and others on board vessels in the ports, returned with the general population in 1851, for the first time, are excluded.
Sta. denotes that the population was nearly stationary; the minus sign (—) before the rate denotes that the population, instead of increasing, decreased at the stated rate.

TABLE IX.—INHABITED HOUSES and POPULATION in 1851 and 1861, in the CITIES, BOROUGHs, and PRINCIPAL TOWNS (of more than 2,000 Inhabitants) in ENGLAND and WALES.

NOTE.—TOWNS WITH TWO NAMES APPEAR TWICE IN THIS TABLE. EXAMPLE:—EAST RETFORD, AND RETFORD, EAST.

* * The letters placed before the figures denote—P, Parliamentary limits; M, Municipal limits; M. & P, Municipal and Parliamentary limits co-extensive. Towns not so distinguished are neither Parliamentary Boroughs nor Corporate Towns regulated by the Act of 5 & 6 Will. IV. c. 76. (London City excepted), but are mostly Market Towns containing 2000 inhabitants and upwards.

The Boroughs distinguished thus (*), for which the population within the Parliamentary limits is given, only contribute, with others, to send Members to Parliament.—(See Contributory Boroughs, p. xxiii.)

The population of the Towns marked thus (+) was not separately shown in the Census Abstract for 1851. The towns of Aberavon, Brighton, Burnley, Dewsbury, Hanley, Margate, Middlesbrough, Rochdale, Stalybridge, Wrexham, and Yeovil have received charters of incorporation since the Census of 1851, and the town of Birkenhead is now a Parliamentary Borough; the number of their inhabited houses and their population in that year have been inserted where practicable. The Municipal limits of Salford and Stockton have been extended since 1851.

TOTAL -	2,287,205	454,422	121,530	736,731	115,353	154,439

NOTE.—It appears from the above Table that 2,287,205 Emigrants sailed from the Ports of the United Kingdom in the ten years 1851–60. Of that number, 1,582,475 emigrated in the eight years 1853–60 ; and 454,422 were found to be English, 121,530 Scotch, 736,731 Irish, and 115,353 foreigners. The origin of 154,439 Emigrants was not ascertained. If we assume that these unascertained numbers should be distributed proportionally over the rest, the numbers of the several Classes will be shown in the annexed Table.

The Emigrants in the first three months of 1851 were 56,584, consequently the number in the two years 1851–2, namely 704,730, have to be reduced to 648,146 to obtain the number of Emigrants in the interval extending from 1st April 1851 to 31st December 1852. The nationality was not then distinguished, but a large proportion of the Emigrants was of Irish origin, and the best estimate will be made by assuming that the proportions were the same as in 1853 ; the results appear in the Table. 18,734 Emigrants sailed from the United Kingdom in the portion of 1861 terminating on April 8th, the Census day, of whom 3,886 were English, 738 Scotch, 9,006 Irish, 842 Foreigners ; of 4,262 the native origin was not ascertained. In the following Table the 4,262 have been distributed in Classes in the proportions of those whose birth-places were ascertained.

ESTIMATED NUMBER of FOUR CLASSES of EMIGRANTS in the Interval between the Census of 1851 and 1861.

1861 (to April 7th) - -	18,734	5,030	955	11,659	1,090

It may be inferred from the official returns that the number of Emigrants from the United Kingdom was not less than—

717,913 in the interval of the Censuses 1831 and 1841 ;
1,692,063 ditto ditto 1841 and 1851 ; and
2,249,355 ditto ditto 1851 and 1861.

MEMORANDUM

respecting the operation of the "EXTRA-PAROCHIAL PLACES ACT."

The following Memorandum as to the operation of the "Act to provide for the Relief of the Poor in Extra-parochial Places" (20 Vict. c. 19.), and the proceedings which have been taken under it, has been furnished by W. C. Glen, Esq., of the Poor Law Board:—

In the Census Report for 1851 all places which were at that time known to be extra-parochial or were reputed to be such, for which separate returns of population came in, were entered separately in the subdivisions in which they were respectively situated. Those extra-parochial places for which separate returns of population were not received were referred to in the notes applicable to the parishes or townships or other places in which they were locally situated, and with the population of which each was returned. In consequence, however, of the statute 20 Vict. c. 19. (1857), providing for the relief of the poor in extra-parochial places, the character of those places has, in many instances, been essentially changed. That statute enacted that—" § I. After the thirty-first day of December one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, every place entered separately in the report of the Registrar General on the last Census which now is or is reputed to be extra-parochial, and wherein no rate is levied for the relief of the poor, shall for all the purposes of the assessment to the poor rate, the relief of the poor, the county, police, or borough rate, the burial of the dead, the removal of nuisances, and the registration of parliamentary and municipal voters, and the registration of births and deaths, be deemed a parish for such purposes, and shall be designated by the name which is assigned to it in such report; and the justices of the peace having jurisdiction over such place or over the greater part thereof shall appoint overseers of the poor therein; and with respect to any other place being or reputed to be extra-parochial, and wherein no rate is levied for the relief of the poor, such justices may appoint overseers of the poor therein, notwithstanding anything contained in the hundred and first chapter of the statute passed in the session of parliament of the seventh and eighth years of Her present Majesty.

" § II. If in any extra-parochial place it shall appear to the justices that two overseers cannot conveniently be appointed from the inhabitant householders thereof, or are not required for such place, such justices may appoint one only; and if it shall appear to them that there is no such householder liable or fit to be appointed they shall appoint some inhabitant householder of an adjoining parish willing to serve to be such overseer, either with or without an annual salary, such salary, if any, to be approved of by the Poor Law Board, and to be paid out of the poor rate of such place; and such last-mentioned appointment shall enure until the usual time of the appointment of overseers, and may be renewed from year to year as long as the justices shall find necessary."

In pursuance of the Act, the Poor Law Board called for returns from the clerks to the Boards of Guardians of the several poor law unions, of the names of all extra-parochial places locally situated within or adjoining the respective unions, and the names of the clerks to the justices of the petty sessional divisions in which they were respectively situated; and upon receiving the required information they addressed letters to the clerks to the justices, requesting that they would call the attention of the justices to the statute 20 Vict. c. 19., with the view to their appointing overseers for the several places under the provisions of the Act above cited. Overseers have been accordingly appointed for the greater number of such places, and a list of the places was published by the Poor Law Board in their Eleventh Annual Report, Appendix No. 52, page 290.

The number of such places returned to the Poor Law Board was about 600, and they have since dealt with the greater portion of them as parishes for the purposes of the relief to the poor by adding them to the Poor Law unions in which they were locally situated or which they adjoined. A considerable number however, it was impracticable for the Board so to deal with, on account of their very limited extent, in some instances consisting only of a few roods of land, and endeavours were consequently made to procure their annexation to adjoining parishes, under the 4th and 8th sections of the 20 Vict. c. 19., which provide as follows:—

" § IV. If the owners and occupiers respectively of the land comprised in any extra-parochial place owning and occupying two thirds in value at least of such land shall express their desire in writing, signed by such major part, that such place be comprised in or annexed to any parish for the purposes aforesaid, and such parish shall consent thereto, such consent to be expressed by a resolution of the vestry, after due notice, the justices of the peace in quarter sessions assembled, or the recorder of the borough, if such place be situated within a borough subject to the jurisdiction of a recorder, may make an order for the annexation of such place to such parish, and thenceforth the same shall be deemed to be part of the said parish for all such purposes."

" § VIII. Where there is any extra-parochial place contained in or adjoining to any district comprising any parish or parishes, in which district the relief of the poor is administered under the authority of a Local Act, the Poor Law Board may, with the consent of the occupiers and owners of two thirds in value of the land comprised in such place, and with the consent of the guardians acting in that district, by order direct such place to be added, for the purposes of administration of relief to the poor, to such district, upon such conditions and subject to such provisions and regulations as shall appear to them to be necessary for such purposes."

As yet the owners and occupiers of only 14 of such places have consented to the annexation taking place.

Three of the Inns of Court and the Charter House, being somewhat peculiarly situated, were excluded from the general provisions of the 20 Vict. c. 19., and with respect to them section 3 provided as follows :—

“ § III. In each of the places termed the Inner Temple, the Middle Temple, and Gray’s Inn, the officer for the time being acting as the under treasurer of such inn of court, and in the place termed Charterhouse, London, the registrar, shall be the overseer of such place ; and in default of any such officer, the justices having jurisdiction in such inns or place respectively shall appoint some inhabitant householder therein to be the overscer thereof for the then current year, and thenceforth from year to year so long as the office of under treasurer or registrar shall be vacant ; provided that such places shall not be liable to be added to any union or other district for the purposes aforesaid.”

The following Table shows the number of places dealt with under the Act to 1st August 1862 :—

Number of separate Places reported by Clerks of Unions.	Number of such Places for which Overseers have been appointed by the Justices.	Number of such Places which have been annexed to adjoining Parishes under Sect. 4. of the Act.	Number of such Places which have been added to Unions by the Poor Law Board.

* Municipal Borough, not returning Members to Parliament.
† Municipal Borough returning Members to Parliament. The Municipal and Parliamentary Limits are co-extensive.

^a Within the limits adopted under the Public Health Act for the Local Board of Health. The Superintendent Registrar considers that the Town proper contains 480 Inhabited Houses and 2,867 Persons.
^b These Towns having no recognized boundaries deemed suitable as the basis of a return of the population, the Superintendent Registrar and Registrar of Births and Deaths have in each case distinguished the houses which in their opinion may be considered within the limits of the Town proper.
^c The eight townships taken for the Town of Glossop are included in a common rate for Poor Assessments and for the Burial Board. The area thus comprised is not all urban, very much being rural.
^d Within the limits of the lighting boundary.

* Municipal Boroughs returning Members to Parliament; the Municipal and Parliamentary limits are co-extensive.

† Municipal and Parliamentary Borough; the Parliamentary limits are more extensive than those of the Corporate Town.

‡ Municipal Borough not returning Members to Parliament.

^a These Towns having no recognized boundaries deemed suitable as the basis of a return of the population, the Superintendent Registrar and Registrar of Births and Deaths have in each case distinguished the houses which in their opinion may be considered within the limits of the Town proper.

^b The Hamlet of Brentwood, excluding the Industrial School belonging to the Parish of Shoreditch, London, has been assumed to represent the Town, which has no recognized boundaries.

^c Within the limits of the Local Board of Health.

^a The whole of the Parish of West Ham, in which Stratford is situated, may be regarded as part of the suburbs of London, although the Parish is not included in the District of the Metropolitan Board of Works, while Greenwich, Woolwich, and other Parishes on the opposite side of the River Thames are so included. Stratford Ward is here taken to represent the Town of Stratford, as in the Census Abstracts of 1851.

* Corporate Towns returning members to Parliament; the Municipal and Parliamentary Limits are co-extensive.

* Within the limits defined by the Superintendent Registrar and Registrar of Births and Deaths as proper to be taken to represent the Town.

^b The part of the Parish of Ross called Ross Borough, possesses a recognized boundary for lighting and paving, but it does not include the whole of the town. The Superintendent Registrar and the Registrar of Births and Deaths have therefore distinguished the additional houses which may be considered within the limits of the town.

* Municipal and Parliamentary Boroughs; the Parliamentary Limits are more extensive than those of the Corporate Town.

† Corporate Towns returning members to Parliament; the Municipal and Parliamentary Limits are co-extensive.

‡ Municipal Borough not returning Members to Parliament.

^a These Towns having no recognized boundaries deemed suitable as the basis of a return of the population, the Superintendent Registrar and Registrar of Births and Deaths have in each case distinguished the Houses which, in their opinion, may be considered within the limits of the Town proper.

^b The Town district as defined by the "Spalding Improvement Act, 1853."

* In some few cases it has not been possible to ascertain separately the population of these places which were formerly extra-parochial; their inhabitants are included with the parish or place with which they are locally connected.

^a East Ferry Township, which extends into Owston Parish, contains 190 persons.

^b Skirbeck includes an Allotment in the West Fen.

^c The other parts of Wingland are returned as Wingland near Tydd St. Mary in this County, and Wingland near Walpole St. Peter in Norfolk. The part adjoining Terrington St. Clement contained no houses.

‡ Municipal Borough returning members to Parliament. The Municipal and Parliamentary Limits are co-extensive.

* Some doubt appears to exist as to whether Ludlow Castle is in the County of Salop or in the Borough of Ludlow: the Clerk of the Peace for Shropshire states that it has not hitherto contributed to the rates of the Borough or County, but it will be rated to the County as speedily as the necessary forms will admit of it.

END OF PART I.

CENSUS OF ENGLAND AND WALES, 1861.

PART II.

REGISTRATION AND POOR LAW DIVISIONS.

NOTE

ON THE ARRANGEMENT OF THE RETURNS UNDER REGISTRATION AND POOR LAW DIVISIONS.

IN the modern subdivision of England and Wales into Unions and Registration Districts for purposes connected with the administration of the Poor Laws, and the registration of Births, Deaths, and Marriages, attention has been paid to circumstances of local convenience, and to the present distribution of the people, rather than to the ancient boundaries of counties and hundreds. Hence the groups of entire Registration Districts or Poor Law Unions, which have been designated Registration Counties and Union Counties, do not coincide with the counties bearing the same names, although in aggregate area and population they closely approximate.

The following Tables exhibit the Registration Districts or Unions, arranged according to their topographical connexion as in the reports of the Registrar-General and of the Poor Law Board. For the sake of statistical delineation they are grouped under eleven Divisions; namely, DIVISION I. LONDON, comprising the Registration Districts within the limits of the Metropolis as defined in the Weekly Tables of Births and Deaths in London.

„ II. SOUTH-EASTERN, comprising Registration Districts chiefly in the Counties of Surrey and Kent [extra-metropolitan], Sussex, Hants, Berks.

„ III. SOUTH-MIDLAND, comprising Registration Districts chiefly in the Counties of Middlesex [extra-metropolitan], Herts, Bucks, Oxford, Northampton, Hunts, Beds, Cambridge.

„ IV. EASTERN, comprising Registration Districts chiefly in the Counties of Essex, Suffolk, Norfolk.

„ V. SOUTH-WESTERN, comprising Registration Districts chiefly in the Counties of Wilts, Dorset, Devon, Cornwall, Somerset.

„ VI. WEST-MIDLAND, comprising Registration Districts chiefly in the Counties of Gloucester, Hereford, Salop, Stafford, Worcester, Warwick.

„ VII. NORTH-MIDLAND, comprising Registration Districts chiefly in the Counties of Leicester, Rutland, Lincoln, Nottingham, Derby.

„ VIII. NORTH-WESTERN, comprising Registration Districts chiefly in Cheshire and Lancashire.

„ X. NORTHERN, comprising Registration Districts chiefly in the Counties of Durham, Northumberland, Cumberland, Westmorland.

„ XI. WELSH, comprising Registration Districts chiefly in Monmouthshire and Wales.

The Parishes and Places are arranged topographically under the Superintendent Registrars' Districts,* and subordinate to them under the Sub-districts, there being for each of the latter a resident Registrar of Births and Deaths, and usually a Medical Officer and Relieving Officer under the Poor Law.

* The Unions and other jurisdictions under the Poor Law Amendment Act do not embrace the whole of the country, there being parishes still under the Act of 43 Eliz. and other places not included in any Union.

* The Superintendent Registrars' Districts are for the most part co-extensive with Unions or single parishes under Boards of Guardians, or with parishes in which the relief of the poor is administered under Local Acts. A return of the population in the Unions and other districts for the relief of the poor will be found in Table (F.), at the end of the Division.

† The AREAS as computed from the Ordnance Survey and official documents in the custody of the Tithe and Inclosure Commissioners are reprinted from the Census Tables of 1851. In the area of London is included the portion of the River Thames which is comprised within the aggregate limits of the Registration Districts of London, amounting to 2778 acres of water. This acreage is distributed amongst the parishes as shown in Table (D.), at the end of the Division. The Areas marked thus (w) include portions of the River Thames.

‡ The limits to which the present return applies are identical with those of the District of the Metropolitan Board of Works, with the exception of the hamlet of Penge, which is in the Croydon Union, and forms no part of "London" as defined in the Registrar-General's "Weekly Table of Births and Deaths."

1. KENSINGTON. ^a The Superintendent Registrar's District of Kensington consists of Paddington parish (sub-districts 1 and 2), Kensington parish (sub-districts 3 and 4), and the Fulham Union, consisting of the parishes of Fulham and Hammersmith (sub-districts 5—7). The Fulham Union contained 29,646 inhabitants in 1851, and 40,058 in 1861. Paddington and Kensington are single parishes with Boards of Guardians under the Poor Law Amendment Act.

^b The Sub-district of St. Mary Paddington comprises all that part of the parish of Paddington within a line extending from the corner of Praed Street to the Irongate Wharf inclusive, along the centre of the Paddington basin of the Grand Junction Canal to the Harrow Road, and then over the railway bridge at the Great Western Railway terminus, along the centre of the Bishop's Road and Westbourne Grove, crossing Westbourne Grove North to the boundary of Chelsea parish, then crossing the Grand Junction Canal and the Harrow Road by the boundary of Willesden parish to Kilburn, and thence along the Edgware Road to the corner of Praed Street, 1861.—The return, which includes 117 persons in boats and barges, states that 269 persons were temporarily absent visiting, travelling, or "out of town," and 180 were temporarily in the sub-district as visitors, &c.

^c The Sub-district of St. John Paddington is bounded on the east by part of the Edgware Road, on the south by part of Kensington Gardens and the Uxbridge Road, on the west by the parochial boundary separating Paddington from Kensington parish, and on the north by part of the Westbourne Grove Road, the Bishop's Road, and part of the Paddington Canal. 1861.—The return includes 42 persons in barges, and mentions 972 persons as temporarily absent, "out of town," &c., and about 450 as temporarily in the sub-district, visiting, &c.

^d The Sub-district of Kensington Town includes all that part of Kensington parish lying north of a line drawn from the south end of Gore Lane to the eastern end of Kensington Crescent, where it abuts on Countess Creek. A detached part of the parish of St. Margaret Westminster, forming the site of St. Margaret's Workhouse, is locally situate in Wright's Lane, in this sub-district. 1861.—The return states that about 660 persons were temporarily absent visiting, travelling, or working in the country, and 200 temporarily present, visiting, &c.

^f The Sub-district of St. Peter Hammersmith is co-extensive with the Ecclesiastical District of the same name. 1861.—The return states that 86 persons were temporarily present, and 60 absent, from various causes.

^g The Sub-district of St. Paul Hammersmith comprises all that part of the parish of Hammersmith which is not within the Ecclesiastical District of St. Peter, 1861.—The return states that 175 persons were temporarily present, and 112 absent.

^h The return for the parish of Fulham in 1861 states that about 105 persons were temporarily present, and 150 absent.

2. CHELSEA. ⁱ Chelsea South Sub-district comprises so much of Chelsea parish as is south of a line running along the middle of King's Road from Stanley Bridge to Grosvenor Bridge. 4. WESTMINSTER. ^a St. Margaret Westminster includes Privy Gardens and Whitehall. A detached portion of the parish comprises part of Knightsbridge, also Kensington Palace and Gardens. Another detached portion of the parish, situate at Wright's Lane, Kensington, forms the site of the Workhouse for St. Margaret and St. John Westminster. The decrease of population in St. Margaret's has been progressive for some years, owing (1) to private families having left for the advantage of letting their houses for solicitors', engineers', and railway contractors' offices; (2) to the pulling down of houses for the new thoroughfare to Piccadilly (Victoria Street), and, in contemplation of new public offices, much of the cleared ground still remaining vacant; and (3) to the removal of shopkeepers, &c. in consequence of the disturbance of the neighbourhood, and loss of trade.

5. ST. MARTIN-IN-THE-FIELDS. ^b The Charing Cross Sub-district comprises all that part of the parish known as Suffolk Street Ward, first and second Charing Cross Wards, Speer Alley Ward, Exchange Ward, and Strand Ward. Part of the "Verge of the Palaces of St. James and Whitehall," formerly deemed extra-parochial, is in this sub-district, the remainder being in the parishes of St. Margaret Westminster and St. George Hanover Square.

^c The Long Acre Sub-district comprises New Street Ward, Bedfordbury Ward, Long Acre Ward, and Drury Lane Ward; also a detached part of the parish, including the burial-ground and almshouses, situate in Pratt Street, Camden Town, and containing 9 houses and 55 inhabitants in 1861. Several houses have been removed for the site of the new street from St. Martin's Lane to King Street, and for other improvements.

6. ST. JAMES WESTMINSTER. ^d The decrease of population since 1851 is attributed to two principal causes—(1) the removal of shopkeepers with their families to reside in the suburbs away from their places of business; (2) the conversion of private houses into warehouses or workshops. Several dilapidated houses in New Street and Hopkins Street have been removed, and two model lodging-houses have been erected on their sites. A detached part of the parish, comprising a burial-ground and chapel, is locally situate in St. Pancras parish, Somers Town Sub-district.

^e The Berwick Street Sub-district includes all that part of the parish of St. James Westminster lying eastward of a line drawn from the north end of Poland Street, along the middle of that street, across Broad Street, and along the middle of Little Windmill Street and Great Windmill Street, as far as Coventry Street.

^f The St. James's Square Sub-district comprises all that part of the parish of St. James Westminster not included in the Berwick Street and Golden Square Sub-districts. 1861.—The return states that 438 residents were absent at country houses, visiting, &c., and that 320 visitors and others were temporarily in the sub-district.

^g The Golden Square Sub-district is bounded on the south by a line drawn westward along the middle of Brewer Street from its junction with Great and Little Windmill Streets, and along the middle of Glasshouse Street, Vigo Street, in front of the north end of the Albany, and in front of the houses situate on the north side of Burlington Gardens, until the said line intersects the parochial boundary; and on the north and west sides by the parochial boundary separating the parish of St. James from the parishes of St. George Hanover Square and St. Marylebone.

7. MARYLEBONE. ^h All Souls Sub-district includes all that part of St. Marylebone which is bounded on the north by the New Road, on the east by the parochial boundary, on the south by the parochial boundary running along Oxford Street, and on the west by a line drawn from the Regent Circus, Oxford Street; northward, up Regent Street, Langham Place, Portland Place, intersecting the garden of Park Crescent to the New Road. The Middlesex Hospital is in this sub-district.

ⁱ Cavendish Square Sub-district is bounded on the north by the New Road, on the east by All Souls Sub-district, on the south by the parochial boundary running along Oxford Street, and on the west by a line drawn northward along the west branch of Marylebone Lane, across the end of the south side of Hind Street, along Thayer Street, and High Street, up the New Road at the point where it is joined by Devonshire Terrace.

^k The Rectory Sub-district is bounded on the north by part of the New Road, on the east by Cavendish Square Sub-district, on the south by the parochial boundary running along Oxford Street, and on the west by a line drawn northward from the end of Portman Street along the west side of Portman Square, along Gloucester Street and Gloucester Place to the New Road, which forms the northern boundary. This sub-district includes Marylebone Workhouse. The decrease of houses and population since 1851 is attributed almost entirely to the destruction of Calmel Buildings, Orchard Street, on the site of which St. Thomas's Church now stands.

^l St. Mary Sub-district is bounded on the east by the Rectory Sub-district; on the south by the parochial boundary, which extends to the end of Oxford Street; on the west by the parochial boundary continued along the Edgware Road as far as the point where it is joined by Winchester Row; and on the north-west and north by a line drawn in front of the houses in Winchester Row carried along in front of the houses in Homer Place, Middlesex Place, Lisson Grove South, Charlotte Row, and the New Road, as far as the end of Gloucester Place.

^m Christchurch Sub-district is bounded on the south by the sub-districts of All Souls, Cavendish Square, Rectory, and St. Mary; on the west by the parochial boundary, which runs along the Edgware Road as far as the end of Portman Place; on the north-west and north by a line drawn from the Edgware Road as far as the end of Portman Place; on the north-west and north by a line drawn from the Edgware Road up New Church Street along the Alpha Road to the point where it joins Park Road at right angles, then along Park Road and Primrose Hill Road to the point where the parochial boundary intersects the Zoological Gardens; and on the east by the parochial boundary which intersects the Regent's Park, and, crossing St. Andrew's Place, extends as far as Trinity Church.

ⁿ St. John's Sub-district is bounded on the south and south-east by Christchurch Sub-district; on the west by the parochial boundary which runs along the Edgware Road; and on the north and north-east by the parochial boundary continued by Kilburn Priory, crossing the Abbey Road and New North Road on the borders of Hampstead to Barrow Hill eastward, up to the point where the boundary intersects the Primrose Hill Road close to the Zoological Gardens.

8. HAMPSTEAD. ^o In the parish of Hampstead a large increase of population has taken place in consequence of the erection of many villa residences and commodious houses on the Belsize Park and other estates. Kilburn is partly in Hampstead and partly in Willesden parish.

AREA.—Where parts of acres are given the quantities are expressed in decimals.

17. EAST LONDON. ^a The decrease of population in the parishes of this District and Union is mainly attributable to the same circumstances as those referred to in note ^g, relating to London City.

18. WEST LONDON. ^b The West London District consists of the West London Union and the Inner Temple; the latter, by the Act 20 Vict. c. 19, s. 3, is exempted from being added to any Union. Barnard's Inn, Thavies Inn, and Serjeants' Inn, Fleet Street, formerly extra-parochial, have become parishes for the purposes of that Act. A Workhouse belonging to the East London Union, situate in 1851 in St. Bartholomew-the-Great, has since been removed.

^c The other part of the parish of St. Sepulchre is in the Holborn District (14).

^d The other part of the parish of St. Andrew Holborn, viz. St. Andrew Holborn above the Bars, is in the Holborn District (14).

^e Serjeants' Inn (Chancery Lane) and Clifford's Inn, formerly considered to be extra-parochial, are now ascertained to be portions of St. Dunstan-in-the-West, and are returned accordingly. Several houses in the parish have been pulled down for improvements.

^f The ancient Hospital of Bridewell was discontinued as a prison in April 1854; juvenile offenders having been usually committed by the Lord Mayor and Aldermen since that time to the House of Correction at Holloway.

19. LONDON CITY. ^g This District, which is co-extensive with the City of London Union, comprises the whole of the City within the Walls, and Whitefriars Precinct in the City without the Walls. The decrease of population since 1851, amounting in the aggregate to 10,377 persons, or 19.0 per cent., is mainly attributable to the conversion of dwelling-houses into warehouses, counting-houses, and offices, the former residents having removed to the suburban districts. Many houses in the parishes of St. John Baptist, St. Antholin, St. Thomas Apostle, St. Mary Aldermay, St. Mildred Broad Street, St. Margaret-Moses, St. Augustin, St. Gregory, and Holy Trinity have been demolished for the formation of New Cannon Street and New Earl Street. The number of inhabited houses—that is, of houses having persons sleeping in them—has decreased from 7297 in 1851 to 6362 in 1861, while the uninhabited houses have since 1851 increased from 1059 to 1576; yet of these 1576 houses, at least 1200 or 1300 are occupied during the day, being left tenanted at night, under the general surveillance of the police. The City of London Union Workhouse is situate in the Bow Road, being partly in the Mile End Old Town District, No. 246, and partly in the Poplar District, No. 25.

§ Lambeth Church First Sub-district extends from Westminster Bridge along the banks of the Thames to Vauxhall Bridge, along Vauxhall Row, western side of Vauxhall Walk, Lambeth Walk, China Row and Terrace, Moor Place (including Durham Place, Walsingham Place, Mead Place, and the Female Orphan Asylum), crossing the road to Surrey Lodge in the Westminster Bridge Road, and along the west side thereof to Westminster Bridge. Lambeth Church Second Sub-district comprises the remainder of the old church ecclesiastical district as it stood when the Sub-districts were formed in 1837.

† The original district parish of St. Mark Kennington is comprised in the Kennington First and Second Sub-districts, which are divided by the Kennington and Clapham Roads, the part lying to the north-eastward of those roads forming the First Sub-district and that on the south-westward the Second Sub-district.

‡ The Brixton Sub-district consists of the original district parish of St. Matthew Brixton.

§ The Norwood Sub-district consists of the original district parish of St. Luke Norwood.

32. WANDSWORTH. † The hamlet of Penge, which is detached from the rest of the parish of Battersea, forms part of the Croydon District and Union (46), and is included in the District of the Metropolitan Board of Works, see Table (G.)

‡ The parish of Putney includes the hamlet of Roehampton.

§ A decrease of population in Lower Tooting has been caused by the discontinuance since 1851 of a large establishment for pauper children: the houses have increased.

† The parish of Streatham includes Upper Tooting and Balham Hamlets, and Knight's Hill, which last is a detached portion of the parish lying between Lambeth and Camberwell.

33. CAMBERWELL. † The Camberwell Sub-district comprises all that part of the parish of Camberwell which is not included in the hamlets of Dulwich and Peckham, or the original district parish of St. George.

35. GREENWICH. ^a For the number of persons in the Royal Hospital and other Public Institutions, see Table (B).
^b The Greenwich West Sub-district comprises all that part of the parish of Greenwich which lies westward of a line running from the river Thames at Garden Stairs, along the centre of Church Street, Stockwell Street, Crooms Hill, and Chesterfield Walk, to the southern boundary of the parish on Blackheath, and including that part of the Paragon which is in Greenwich parish.
^c The Greenwich East Sub-district comprises all the remainder of the parish of Greenwich lying eastward of the above-described line, including the Royal Hospital and Schools.
^d The parish of Woolwich is comprised in Sub-districts 5 and 6, the general division line being the centre of the roads in Rectory Place, St. Mary Street, Parsons Hill, and Woolwich Common. The Woolwich Arsenal Sub-district includes North Woolwich, a portion of the parish situate on the north side of the river Thames, and surrounded on three sides by the county of Essex.

36. LEWISHAM. ^e The return for Plumstead presents the most remarkable proportionate increase of houses and population since 1851 in any parish within the metropolitan limits. Its contiguity to Woolwich, where government employment has been largely extended, is the chief cause of this increase.
^f The part of the parish of Lewisham in the Lee Sub-district is that lying north, north-east, and north-west of Plough Bridge. The Lewisham Village Sub-district comprises the remaining part of the parish not included in Sydenham Chapelry, which forms the Sydenham Sub-district.

ECCLESIASTICAL DISTRICTS.

BLE (A.)—HOUSES and POPULATION enumerated on April 8th, 1861, in NEW DISTRICT PARISHES and ECCLESIASTICAL DISTRICTS, formed, under the Authority of various Acts of Parliament, by the Ecclesiastical Commissioners—the Commissioners for building New Churches—and the Bishops of the several Dioceses.

* The boundaries of these Ecclesiastical subdivisions are not generally known, and considerable difficulty has, in some cases, been experienced in preparing from the Census a statement of the population. The numbers here given have been in every instance submitted to the inspection of the Incumbents of the various Ecclesiastical Districts New Parishes, but their absolute correctness cannot be vouched for.
 † The return does not include persons on board vessels lying in waters contiguous to the Districts or Parishes.
 ‡ Where the original limits of an Ecclesiastical District have been altered by a Supplemental Order, the return of houses and population applies to the District as it stood at date of the Census.

NOTE.—The new District Parishes and Ecclesiastical Districts formed under the authority of various Acts of Parliament will be found returned in a supplemental Table (A.) at the end of the return of population, &c. in parishes.

The letter (W) denotes that a Workhouse is situate within the limits of the parish or place, and included in the return. A Table showing the number of persons in the principal Public Institutions in each District will be found at the end of the Division; see Table (B.)

Persons on board vessels on the night of April 7th, 1861, are returned with the general population; for details, see Table (C.)

The names of places printed in capitals (thus, Epsom) are those of parishes which contain Towns of the same name; Cities and Boroughs are distinguished in the same manner. A detailed statement of the population of the cities, boroughs, and towns of upwards of 2000 inhabitants, is given under the respective counties in Part I.

Where the name of the Registration or Union County in which a parish or place is returned is different from that of the county proper to which it belongs, the latter is stated in italics.

The AREAS of parishes and places are reprinted from the Census Tables of 1851; the quantities distinguished by a different type (thus, 2410, Ewell) were assigned to the parishes and places by the late Mr. Rickman in the Enumeration Abstract for 1831; in these cases the records in the custody of the Tithe Commissioners did not supply the means of arriving at a more accurate result. The Areas marked thus (w) include Water or Sea Coast; for details, see Table (D.)

37. EPSOM. ^a The increase of population in Banstead parish since 1851 is attributed to a portion of the land having changed hands, and greater facilities having in consequence been offered for building. Many cottages have been erected by small capitalists. The Ecclesiastical District of Kingswood is partly in this parish.

^b The large increase of population in the parish of Sutton since 1851 is attributed partly to the establishment of the South Metropolitan District School, containing 900 persons, and partly to facility of railway communication with London, which has caused a demand for cottage and villa residences. Land in the parish has been purchased by Building Societies, and houses have been built thereon.

^c The decrease of population in Cuddington parish is attributed mainly to the breaking up of the establishment at Nonsuch Park, through the death of the proprietor.

^d The remainder of the parish of Ewell, viz., Kingswood Liberty, is in the Reigate District (41).

^e Since 1851 the Royal Medical Benevolent College and Almshouses for Decayed Medical Men have been established in Epsom parish; the opening of railway communication between Epsom and the west of London has also caused an increase of population, many families having come to reside in the houses recently erected here. The workhouse of the Epsom Union and the hamlet of Horton are in this parish. For the Town of Epsom, see Part I.

^f The return for Leatherhead in 1861 includes 39 non-residents (visitors), and states that 98 persons were temporarily absent in London, and visiting. The hamlet of Pattersham is in this parish.

^g The return for the parish of Stoke-D'Abernon includes the hamlet of Oxshot, said to contain 36 houses and 167 inhabitants in 1861.

^h The increase of population in Cobham parish since 1851 is attributed to the erection of cottages for farm labourers on two estates. The parish is almost exclusively agricultural, and there is said to be full employment for a large number of labourers. 21 persons were in tents.

38. CHERTSEY. ⁱ The large increase of population since 1851 in the parish of Walton-on-Thames is attributed to the erection of a number of houses on the Oatlands Park estate, and cottages and villa residences in other parts of the parish, chiefly occupied by persons engaged in business in London. The increase of population in Weybridge parish is attributed to similar causes. The Metropolitan Convalescent Institution and the Ecclesiastical District of Hersham are in Walton parish.

^k The villages of Addlestone, Botleys, Lyne, and Long Cross, and the Union Workhouse are in Chertsey parish. For the Ecclesiastical Districts, see Table (A.) The return for 1861 includes 61 persons attending a fair at Addlestone. For the Town of Chertsey, see Part I.

^l A detached part of Chobham parish is locally situate at Broomhall. Part of the Ecclesiastical District of Sunningdale is in this parish.

^m The increase in the population of Windlesham since 1851 is attributed to the proximity of the parish to the camp at Aldershot. A portion of the parish is detached, and locally situate at Broomhall. Part of the Ecclesiastical District of Sunningdale is in this parish, as is also the village of Bagsbot.

ⁿ The decrease of population in Bisley since 1851 is attributed to families having left the parish to obtain employment at the camp at Aldershot and in the erection of the new government gaol at Knaphill.

39. GUILDFORD. a The decrease of population in Pirbright is attributed to the removal of persons employed in 1851 on the London and South-western Railway, and of young persons.

b The increase of population in Woking parish since 1851 is attributed to the erection of the Invalid Convict Prison, the officers and their families alone amounting to 202 persons. Several houses have been erected on land lately belonging to the London Necropolis Company. Persons in connexion with the London and South-western Railway have settled in this parish, and workmen employed in building the Dramatic College Almshouses have also caused an increase of population. The tythings of Town Street, Goldsworth or Goldings, Kingsfield or Kenville, Mayford, Shackleford, Hale End, Crosstack, and Suttor are in this parish.

c The increase of population in Worplesdon since 1851 is owing partly to the proximity of the parish to the camp at Aldershot, several houses having been erected in the part of the parish nearest to the camp; partly to an increase in the number of brickyards; and partly to the settlement of persons employed on the Guildford and Reading Railway. The tythings of Burgham, Perry Hill, West End, and Wyke are in this parish, as is also part of the Ecclesiastical District of Wyke.

d The increase of population in Send parish since 1851 is attributed to the erection of houses for the workmen at a large paper-mill situate in the parish of Woking.

e The return includes a detached part of the parish of Ockham, consisting of a house and 66 acres of land, locally situate about 11 miles from Ockham village, in Abinger parish.

f The decrease of population in East Horsley since 1851 is attributed to the reduction of a large establishment in the parish.

g The increase of population in Merrow parish since 1851 is attributed to the erection of several good houses, all of which were inhabited at the time the Census was taken.

h The return includes the villages of Gomshall, Felday, and Pislake.

i The increase of population in the parish of Stoke-next-Guildford is attributed to the erection of a large number of houses since 1851; many more are in course of erection.

k For the Borough of Guildford, see Part I.

l The return for 1861 states that 92 persons belonging to the parish of St. Mary-the-Virgin were absent visiting, &c. at the time of the Census.

m The return for Friary and Bowling Green in 1851 includes 184 persons in the Guildford House of Correction, which has since been pulled down, the inmates having been transferred to Wandsworth. These places have become parishes under 20 Vict. c. 19.

n The parish of Godalming includes the borough of Godalming (see Part I.) and the tythings of Brinscomb, Catteshall, Deanshold, High Eashing, Low Eashing, Farncombe, Hurtmore, Labourn, Shackleford, and Tuesley. The increase of population since 1851 is attributed to the erection of large tannery works and other manufacturing establishments. The Ecclesiastical District of Farncomb is in this parish.

40. FARNHAM. o Since 1851 the Reading and Reigate Railway has been opened, and the Wellington College, Broadmoor Asylum, and Royal Staff College have been erected in the vicinity of Frimley. Proximity to the camp at Aldershot has also caused an increase of population. Articles of clothing for the Royal Military College, formerly received from London, are now manufactured in the village of York Town, causing a large increase in the number of tailors and shoemakers. The return includes 124 persons temporarily present, engaged in house construction, felling timber, and sawing. The other part of Ash parish is in the Farnborough District (41). For the Town of Farnham, see Part I.

p The increase of population in Aldershot parish is attributed to the establishment of the camp since the Census of 1851. Including the military, the parish contained 16,720 persons in 1861.

q The parish of Farnham consists of the tythings of Farnham, Badshot and Runfold, Culverlands and Tilford, Runham, and Wrecklesham with Bourne. The large increase of population in Farnham is attributed to the proximity of the parish to the camp at Aldershot, and to the system of allotment,—Farnham Common, comprising an area of about one square mile, and situated less than a mile from the camp, having now the appearance of a rising town, while in 1851 it contained only a few scattered houses. Several first-class houses which have been built in the town and its immediate vicinity are inhabited principally by officers and their families. For the Town of Farnham, see Part I.

r The increase of population in Frensham parish is attributed to the works of the Direct Portsmouth Railway, and to the erection of a station in the immediate vicinity of Shoternill village, where several houses, occupied chiefly by workmen and servants of the railway company, have been built.

* To the great facilities of railway communication, the healthiness of the neighbourhood, and the beauty of the scenery, is attributed the large increase of houses and population in Reigate parish. The part called the Borough, which comprises the old parliamentary borough, and the Foreign of Reigate, have separate overseers, &c. The present parliamentary borough consists of the entire parish. Reigate foreign includes the Union Workhouse, the Philanthropic Society's Farm School, and an Asylum for Idiots.

45. GODSTONE. c Harrowsley is detached from the principal part of the parish of Horne.

d The hamlet of Ham and the Union Workhouse are in Bletchingly parish.

e The large increase of population in Caterham is attributed to the opening of a branch of the South-eastern Railway. Since 1851, waterworks, and a number of villas and cottages, have been erected.

f The increase of population in Godstone parish since 1851 is attributed partly to the convenience of railway communication, and partly to the erection of cottages for the labouring classes, such accommodation being very scarce in adjoining parishes.

g The increase of population in Warlingham is ascribed to the proximity of the parish to Croydon, and to the erection of houses and cottages.

46. CROYDON. h The return for Addington parish includes 7 persons in a shed.

i The Reedham Orphan Asylum is in Coulsdon parish.

k The great facilities afforded by railway communication have caused a large increase of houses and population since 1851 in the parish of Croydon. The hamlets of Woodside and Waddon, and part of Norwood, are in this parish. The return includes the Union Workhouse, the Military College at Addiscombe, the Catholic Orphan Asylum, and Barracks. For the Town of Croydon, see Part I.

l The hamlet of Penge is a detached part of Battersea parish, from which it is eight miles distant. The return includes the North Surrey District School, King William's Naval Asylum, and the Waterman and Lighterman's Asylum. In 1861, about 190 railway labourers, and 304 persons engaged in house construction, were mentioned as residing temporarily in the hamlet.

m The Industrial School belonging to the parish of St. George-in-the-East is in Mitcham parish.

47. KINGSTON. n The large increase of houses and population in Wimbledon is attributed to the healthiness of the neighbourhood, and to the facility of railway communication with London. A large portion of land has been let for building purposes.

The increase of population in Dartford is attributed to additional employment created at paper-mills, and to railway communication. For the Town of Dartford, Part I.

The increase of population in the parishes of Stone-near-Dartford and Swanscombe is mainly attributed to railway communication, which has led to the erection of villa residences at Greenhithe. More hands have been employed in the tent works.

The decrease of population in Darenth parish is ascribed to several large villas having removed since 1851. Part of the hamlet of South Darenth is in this parish.

The increase of population in the parish of Sutton-at-Hone is attributed to way communication, and to the employment of labourers at paper-mills and on way works in progress. Swanley and Hawley are hamlets in this parish. The return for 1861 includes 103 railway labourers.

The increase of population in Horton Kirby parish is ascribed to the employment of additional hands in a paper factory. Dean Bottom, Pinden, and part of hamlet of South Darenth and village of Horton are in this parish.

The increase of population in the parish of Eynesford is attributed to additional house accommodation, especially at Crocken Hill, and to the railway works in progress. The return for 1861 includes 330 railway labourers.

The parish of Ash is wholly agricultural; the decrease of population is attributed to the want of employment. Hodsol Street, West York, and part of Culton Green are in this parish.

Betsom, Hook Green, and Westwood are in the parish of Southfleet.

1. GRAVESEND. ¹ The increase of population in the parishes of Gravesend and Milton is attributed mainly to the facilities afforded by railway communication in the metropolis, inducing many families to reside there. These parishes form the municipal borough of Gravesend, see Part I. The returns for 1861 include 743 persons on board vessels in the river.

52. NORTH AYLESFORD. ^k The return for the parish of Northfleet in 1861 includes 153 persons on board vessels in the river.

^l Part of Culverstone Green is in the parish of Meopham.

^m The increase of population in Cobham and Chalk is mainly attributed to the erection of cottages, which are occupied by labourers and their families, who formerly resided in adjoining parishes.

ⁿ The increase of population in the parish of Higham is attributed to a large increase in the number of acres under cultivation for market gardens, which has led to the erection of small houses for the accommodation of labourers, who formerly resided out of the parish.

^o The increase of population in the parish of Cliffe-at-Hoo is attributed to the establishment of pottery and cement works.

^p The parish of Frindsbury includes Upnor Castle.

^q The increase of population in the parish of Strood is attributed partly to the erection of the new traffic bridge and the new railway bridge across the Medway; brick-making has been carried on very extensively, and a large number of houses have been erected. The return for 1861 includes 208 labourers employed on railway works.

^r The increase of population in Cuxton parish is attributed to the establishment of lime and brick-making works, and to the erection of the railway station.

^s In the parish of Halling extensive lime and cement works have been established, affording employment to many hands.

53. HOO. ^t The decrease of population in the parish of St. Mary Hoo is attributed partly to the circumstance of 25 persons in caravans, &c. having been enumerated in 1851, and partly to labourers having left.

54. MEDWAY. ^a For the City of Rochester, the parliamentary and municipal limits of which are identical, see Part I.
^b The decrease in the population of the parish of St. Nicholas is attributed to the demolition of houses for the London, Chatham, and Dover Railway. A workhouse belonging to the Union, which contained 124 inhabitants in 1851, has been closed. The return for 1861 includes 256 persons on board vessels.
^c The increase of population in St. Margaret's parish is attributed to the erection of a large number of houses, all of which were inhabited in 1861. The return includes the Military Hospital at Fort Pitt and the Military Prison at Fort Clarence.
^d That part of the parish of Chatham situate in the Rochester Sub-district includes the greater part of the Ecclesiastical District of St. John.
^e That part of the parish of Chatham situate in the Gillingham Sub-district includes Chatham Barracks, Marine Barracks, Spur Battery, and Melville Hospital. For the parliamentary borough of Chatham, see Part I. The return includes 617 persons on board vessels.
^f The increase of population in Gillingham parish is attributed to the large number of additional labourers and artificers employed in Her Majesty's Dockyard and other government departments; also to the erection of a new prison containing 1269 inmates in 1861. The return includes Brompton and St. Mary's Barracks, Garrison Hospital, and several other public institutions.
55. MALLING. ^g The parish of Aylesford includes a detached part, viz. Hem Pound near Mereworth, locally situate in the East Peckham Sub-district. The increase of population is attributed to the establishment of extensive brick-fields and cement works. The same reason is assigned for the increase of population in the adjoining parish of East Malling, where cottages have been erected for the accommodation of a large number of labourers employed in the parishes of Aylesford and Burham.
^h The large increase of population in the parish of Snodland and Paddlesworth is attributed to the number of persons employed in a paper manufactory, and in lime works.

ⁱ The hamlet of Hamhill is in Birling parish.
^j Part of Aldon is in the parish of Ryars; the other part is in Addington parish.
^k Comp is in the parish of Leybourn.
^l The return includes a detached part of the parish of Wateringbury, viz. Lily Hoe, locally situate in Brenchley parish.
^m The Ecclesiastical District of Trinity is situate in the parish of East Peckham.
ⁿ The decrease in the population of West Peckham parish is ascribed partly to the removal of 7 houses since 1851, and partly to migration. Oxenoth is in the parish of West Peckham.
^o The decrease of population in the parish of Mereworth is partly accounted for by the absence of a family and household from Mereworth Castle at the time of the Census. The return includes Old Hay Farm, which is detached from the main body of the parish, and locally situate in Brenchley parish.
^p Part of the hamlet of Aldon is in the parish of Addington.
^q The decrease of population in Stanstead parish is partly attributed to the closing of Fairseat School for the Easter vacation at the time the Census was taken.
^r Basted, Clackett Cross, Crouch, Dunks Green, Nepicar, and part of Borough Green, (the other part being in Ightham parish) are in the parish of Wrotham; also the Ecclesiastical Districts of Platt and Plaxtole.
^s Moat, Ivy Hatch, Redwell, Oldbury, and part of Borough Green, are in the parish of Ightham.
56. SEVENOAKS. ^t The return for Shoreham parish includes 79 railway labourers and families in 1861.
^u The Ecclesiastical District of St. Mary Ide Hill is partly in the parish of Chevening.
^v For the Town of Sevenoaks, see Part I. The liberties of Riverhead and Weald do not separately maintain their poor, and some uncertainty is said to exist as to their boundaries.

* Part of the Ecclesiastical District of Mark Beech is situate in Cowden parish.

b Linkhill hamlet, and part of the Ecclesiastical District of Mark Beech, are in Hever parish.

c The decrease of population in Chiddingstone parish is attributed partly to the absence of labourers who were employed on the South-eastern Railway at the time the Census was taken in 1851, and partly to a reduction in the number of hands employed by farmers. Little Chiddingstone, Cooper's Corner and Causeway, and part of the Ecclesiastical District of St. Mary Ide Hill, are in Chiddingstone parish.

d Hollenden hamlet, and part of the Ecclesiastical District of Hildenborough, are in Leigh parish.

57. TUNBRIDGE. e The decrease of population in the parish of Bidborough is attributed partly to the removal of dilapidated houses, and partly to migration.

f The increase of population in Speldhurst parish is attributed to the erection of a large number of houses. In part of the parish situate in the Town of Tunbridge Wells 78 cottages for labourers and others have been erected in one field. Groombridge is in Speldhurst parish.

g The large increase of population in that part of the parish of Tunbridge situate in Tunbridge Wells Sub-district is attributed to the erection of houses; 106 have been erected on a Freehold Land Society's property. Southborough is in this part of Tunbridge parish.

h The increase of population in that part of the parish of Tunbridge situate in Tunbridge Sub-district is attributed to the erection of a large number of houses, particularly in the vicinity of the railway station, where a new town has sprung up. i Tudely is an agricultural parish. The decrease of population is attributed to labourers having left, owing to low wages, &c.

k Matfield Green, Colt's Hill, Mascall's Pound, Henlys, Pearson's Green, and Pettridge are in Brechley parish.

l Rams Hill, Caple Cross, and Sherenden are in the parish of Horsemonden. The increase of population in Horsemonden parish is attributed partly to an influx of labourers from the county of Sussex in consequence of a succession of bad hop seasons, while there has been an increase in the cultivation of hops in this parish, and partly to the farms being now held by farmers possessing more capital than their predecessors.

58. MAIDSTONE. m For the Ecclesiastical Districts situate wholly or partly in Yalding parish, see Table (A.) n The increase of population in Nettlestead parish is attributed to the erection of cottages, and to improvements in the vicinity of the railway.

r The parish of Loose includes part of the Ecclesiastical District of St. Stephen, Tovil.

s The increase of population in East Farleigh parish is attributed to the erection of the Union Workhouse Schools.

t The part of Maidstone parish situate in the West Maidstone Sub-district includes the Barracks and County Lunatic Asylum. For other parts of Maidstone parish, see the Marden and East Maidstone Sub-districts, and for the Municipal and Parliamentary Borough of Maidstone, see Part I.

u The increase of population in the part of the parish of Maidstone situate in East Maidstone Sub-district is attributed partly to the improved prosperity of the town and its vicinity, especially with reference to agricultural interests, and partly to the natural advantages of the locality, which have induced persons of large capital, employing many hands, to settle in it. For other parts of Maidstone parish, see the Marden and West Maidstone Sub-districts.

63. EAST ASHFORD. ^a The decrease of population in the parish of Warehorne is attributed partly to the removal of dilapidated houses (3 houses have been burnt down), and partly to the loss of wages and to emigration. Ham Street is partly in the parish of Warehorne and partly in the parish of Orlestone.
^b The decrease of population in Aldington is attributed to the removal of labourers who have obtained employment at the South-eastern Railway works, where better remuneration for labour is afforded than in agricultural pursuits.
^c The large increase of population in Willesborough parish is attributed to the erection of a factory by the South-eastern Railway Company for the manufacture of engines, carriages, &c.; a large number of houses have been erected, for the accommodation of the workmen, called the New Town.
^d Ridgway is in the parish of Smeeth.
^e The decrease of population in Brabourne parish is attributed to the removal of persons who have obtained employment at the South-eastern Railway Company's works at Willesborough.
^f The decrease of population in the parishes of Hastingleigh, Kennington, Boughton-Aluph, Challock, Moldash, and Godmersham is principally attributable to the removal of persons who have obtained employment at the South-eastern Railway Company's works at Ashford and Willesborough.

65. CANTERBURY. ^a The parishes and places comprised in the Canterbury District are for purposes connected with the relief of the poor united under a Local Act.
^b For the population in 1861 of the City of Canterbury, the parliamentary and municipal limits of which are identical, see Part I.
^c The population of the precinct of St. Augustine's monastery, which has become a parish under the Act of 20 Vict. c. 19., not having been distinctly ascertained in 1851, it is included (with Longport) in one return for the parish of St. Paul. The increase of population since 1851 is partly attributed to the erection of new houses, and partly to the increased number of students in St. Augustine's College, and of prisoners in the County Prison. The Kent and Canterbury Hospital and the County Prison are situate in St. Augustine's precinct.
^d The increase of population in St. Mary Northgate parish is partly attributed to the formation of a new street, see note ^h.
^e St. John's Hospital, Old Castle, East Bridge Hospital, Whitefriars, and Black Prince's Chantry have become parishes under the Act of 20 Vict. c. 19.
^f The other part of the parish of Holy Cross Westgate is in Bridge District (64).
^g The decrease of population in the parish of St. Mary Bredin is attributed to the removal of some houses for the London, Chatham, and Dover Railway.
66. BLEAN. ^h The barracks in the parish of St. Mary Northgate, immediately adjoining St. Gregory, contained a much larger number of military in 1861 than in 1851, and the increase of population in the latter place is attributed to the residence of a number of persons who are dependent for their living on the adjoining garrison.

ⁱ The increase of population in St. Dunstan's parish is attributed partly to the erection of houses, and partly to the establishment of the Clergy Orphan Asylum.
^k Beltinge, Haw, Hampton, Thornton, and Strood hamlets are in the parish of Herne; also the watering-place of Herne Bay.
^l The increase of population in Whitstable parish is attributed to the extension of its shipping trade. In 1851 there were 6 ships engaged in the coasting and foreign trade, while in 1861 there were 140. The hamlet of Harwich is partly in Whitstable and partly in Seasalter.
67. FAVERSHAM. ^m The increase of population in the parish of Preston-next-Faversham is attributed to the Faversham station of the London, Chatham, and Dover Railway being situate in this parish. Many houses have been erected for the accommodation of the workmen employed on premises erected for making and repairing engines and carriages.
ⁿ The increase of population in Faversham parish is attributed to the opening of extensive grounds as a brick-field, where a large number of labourers, who have migrated chiefly from Sittingbourne and the neighbourhood of Dartford, are employed; houses have been erected for their accommodation. For the municipal borough of Faversham, see Part I. Faversham is a member of the Cinque Port of Dover.

68. MILTON. ^a Key Street, Chesnut Street, and Oad Street are in the parish of Forden.

^b The increase of population in Sittingbourne parish is owing partly to the erection of a station on the London, Chatham, and Dover Railway, partly to freehold and having been sold for building purposes, and partly to the erection of cottages for brickmakers at Snips Hill.

^c For the Town of Milton-next-Sittingbourne, see Part I.

^d The increase of population in Rainham parish is attributed to the sale of freehold and for the erection of houses.

69. SHEPPEY. ^e The increase of population in the parish of Queenborough is attributed to the temporary presence of labourers and others, partly in consequence of the Common having been inclosed under the provisions of the Inclosure Act, and partly owing to increased activity in the oyster fishery.

^f The increase of population in the parish of Minster-in-Sheppey is attributed to the establishment of a steam-engine factory, &c. in the Royal Dockyard, which affords employment to several hundreds of artificers and labourers. The return includes 1532 persons on board vessels. For the Town of Sheerness, see Part I.

^g The decrease of population in the parish of Leysdown is attributed partly to the absence of some coast-guard men with their families, and partly to the removal of farm labourers from the island, through want of employment.

70. THANET. ^h The decrease of population in the parish of Birchington is partly attributable to there being fewer persons to a family than in 1851.

ⁱ Brook and Wayborough are in the parish of Minster.

^k For the municipal borough of Margate, see Part I.

^l Upton, Bromston, East Dumpton, Fair Street, Romfields, part of Northwood, Westwood, Poor Hole, Sackett's Hill, Briddles, Shallows, Stone, Kingsgate, George Hill, Reading Street, Joss Sackett's Hill, Callis Court, Sole Street, Dane Court, part of Nash (the other part of which is in the parish of Margate), Callis Grange, and the Ecclesiastical District of Broadstairs, are in St. Peter's parish.

^m Part of Ellington, Southwood, Pegwell, Chilton, Little Cliffs End, Great Cliffs End, Manston, Poleash, Spratting Street, Coldwood, Haine, Newington, Puddle Dock, Whitehall, part of Northwood, Poisons, Holycondane, Dumpton, Hecresou, Ozengell, and Newlands, are in St. Lawrence parish.

ⁿ The parish of Ramsgate includes the Ecclesiastical District of Christchurch and part of Ellington hamlet, the remainder of which is in the parish of St. Lawrence.

Dover is one of the Cinque Ports. For the municipal and parliamentary purposes, see Part I.

Under the Act of 20 Vict. c. 19. the liberties of Dover Castle and East Cliffe, formerly deemed extra-parochial, have become parishes. For military in Dover Castle barracks in 1861, see Table (B.)

The return for the parish of St. Mary-the-Virgin in 1861 includes 250 persons on board vessels. Several houses have been pulled down for the terminus of the Dover, Chatham, and Dover railway.

The increase of population in Hougham parish is attributed partly to the erection of houses on ground belonging to a Freehold Land Society, and partly to the opening of three new brickfields.

The decrease of population in River parish is attributed partly to a reduction in the number of boarders at a school, and partly to the occupation of cottages by persons without children.

Reinden, described as extra-parochial, was returned with Alkham parish in 1851.

73. ELHAM. ^g The large increase in the number of houses and population in Folkestone is attributed to the resort of persons to the town for sea-bathing, &c. Part of the village of Sandgate is situate in this parish. Folkestone is included in the parliamentary borough of Hythe.

^h The large increase of population in Cheriton parish is attributed to the establishment of the camp at Shorncliffe; the increase in the number of houses and population being principally confined to that part of the parish nearest the camp. The dwellings that have been erected consist principally of small cottages occupied by the families of soldiers and by persons who supply the camp with articles of food. Including the military, the parish of Cheriton contained 7534 persons in 1861.

ⁱ Stelling Minnis has become a parish under the Act of 20 Vict. c. 19.

^k The decrease of population in the parishes of Monks Horton and Postling is attributed principally to migration, through want of employment, &c.

^l Gimmingbrook is in the parish of Standford.

^m Pedlinge and Saltwood Green are in Saltwood parish.

ⁿ Court-at-Street is in Lympne parish.

^o The return for Sellinge includes a detached part of the parish locally situate in the parish of Dymchurch, in District 74.

^p Hythe is one of the Cinque Ports. For the parliamentary and municipal borough, see Part I.

^q The return for St. Leonards includes the Hythe School of Musketry. 108 volunteers attending the school are included in the return for 1861.

^a The decrease of population in Crowhurst parish is attributed to the absence of labourers who were engaged on railway works in 1851; the removal of labourers' huts is the cause of the diminished return of houses.

^b The decrease of population in the parishes of Sedlescomb and Ewhurst is attributed to migration, through want of employment.

^c The decrease of population in the parishes of Mountfield and Whatlington is attributed to the absence of labourers who were engaged on railway works in 1851.

^d The apparent decrease of population in Battle parish is attributed to the fact that about 600 labourers were engaged on railway works in 1851. Netherfield is in the parish of Battle.

^e The decrease of population in the parishes of Brightling, Dallington, Penhurst, and Ashburnham is attributed to migration. The return for Dallington includes a detached part of the parish called Hodgkins, locally situate in Hellingly Sub-district (79: 2).

^f 78. EASTBOURNE. ^f The decrease of population in the parishes of Jevington, Folkington, and Wilmington is attributed partly to the migration of labourers (wages being low in agricultural pursuits) to Eastbourne, where building operations are being extensively carried on, and partly to the demand for labourers on the railway.

^g The large increase of population in Eastbourne is attributed to the influx of persons into the parish for sea-bathing, and to the facilities of railway communication. A large number of houses has been erected, and there is an increasing demand for villa residences. Nearly all the houses have been erected on the Duke of Devonshire's estate, a portion of which has been surveyed for the site of the new town. For the Town of Eastbourne, see Part I.

^h Seaford is a member of the Cinque Port of Hastings, situate about four miles from the Newhaven station; it is resorted to, as a retired watering-place, in the season.

ⁱ The decrease of population in Alfriston parish is attributed to the discontinuance of tanning, brewing, and glove-making.

^j 79. HAILSHAM. ^k Part of the Ecclesiastical District of Trinity, Upper Dicker Common, is in Arlington parish.

^l The increase of population in Hailsham parish is attributed partly to the extension of railway communication, and partly to the enlargement of a rope and twine manufactory.

^m The parish of Herstmonceux includes Gardner Street, and part of the Ecclesiastical District of St. John the Evangelist.

ⁿ The decrease of population in the parishes of Wartling and Hooe is attributed to the migration of labourers to towns. Boreham, and part of the Ecclesiastical District of St. John the Evangelist, are in Wartling parish.

^o The decrease of population in the parishes comprising the Hellingly Sub-district is attributed partly to the absence of railway communication, and partly to the migration of female servants and others to towns, where higher rates of wages are obtained. The introduction of steam-power for thrashing corn has almost put an end to one of the principal employments for the winter season.

^p 80. TICEHURST. ^p St. Peter Stonegate, and part of the Ecclesiastical District of St. Augustine Flimwell, are in Ticehurst parish.

^q The decrease of population in the parishes of Etchingham and Salehurst is attributed to the absence of labourers who were employed on railway works in 1851. Hurst Green, Silverhill, Robertsbridge, and Northbridge Street are in Salehurst parish.

^a The decrease of population in Wadhurst parish is mainly attributed to the removal of labourers who were engaged on railway works in 1851. The removal of labourers' huts is the cause of a decreased return of houses.

^b Lamberhurst includes the manor of Scotney. The return for 1861 includes 22 persons attending a fair.

^c The part of the parish of Frant in the county of Kent is said to consist of about 310 acres; its population was not distinguished in 1851. Frant includes Hawkenbury and part of Tunbridge Wells town.

^d 81. UCKFIELD. ^d The decrease of population in the parishes of Rotherfield and Mayfield is mainly attributed to migration of labourers and others to neighbouring towns.

^e East Hoathly parish includes 9 persons attending a fair in 1861.

^f The decrease of population in Isfield parish is partly attributed to the removal of a number of cottages which were attached to a paper mill.

^g The increase of population in the parish of Uckfield is attributed to the extension of the railway from Lewes to Uckfield.

^h For the Ecclesiastical Districts situate in the parishes of Fletching, Maresfield, and Buxted, see Table (A).

82. EAST GRINSTEAD. ⁱ Ashurst and Brockhurst are in East Grinstead parish.

^k Crawley Down, Tilgate Forest, Old House Warren, Pound Hill, Rickman's Green, Copthorne, Wakeman's Green, and Turner's Hill are in Worth parish. The increase of population in this parish is attributed partly to the extension of railway communication, and partly to some wood lands having been cleared and brought into a state of cultivation, causing a slight increase of agricultural labourers.

83. CUCKFIELD. ^l The parish of Horsted Keynes includes part of the Ecclesiastical District of Trinity Dane Hill.

^m The parish of Ardingly includes Hapstead.

ⁿ Staplefield, Hayward's Heath, and Handcross are in Cuckfield parish.

^o Warningfield and Handcross are in Slaugham parish.

^p The parish of Hurstpierpoint includes St. John's College.

^q The increase of population in Clayton parish is attributed to St. John's Common (which is but a short distance from Burgess Hill Station) having been inclosed and a large portion of it sold for the erection of houses.

^r The increase of population in Keymer parish is attributed to the circumstance of two railway stations being situate in the parish, viz., Hassocks Gate and Burgess Hill. Building ground being attainable near both stations, especially the latter, villa and cottage residences have been erected.

84. LEWES. ^a The District of Lewes comprises the four Poor Law Unions of Chailey (Sub-districts 1 and 2); Lewes (Sub-district 3); Westfirle (Sub-district 4); and Newhaven (Sub-districts 5 and 6).

^b The increase of population in Wivelsfield parish is attributed to the erection of the Sussex County Lunatic Asylum.

^c For the parliamentary borough of Lewes, see Part I.

^d The increase of population in St. Anne, or St. Peter and St. Mary Westout parish is attributed to the erection of the County Prison, formerly in the parishes of All Saints and St. John.

^e The Castle Precincts, formerly extra-parochial, have become a parish for the purposes of the Act of 20 Viet. c. 19.

^f The decrease of population in Selmeston parish is mainly attributed to migration to towns.

^g The increase of population in Newhaven is attributed to the railway terminus being situate in the parish. Several steamboats running between France and England, and two between Jersey and England, belong to Newhaven.

85. BRIGHTON. ^h The poor law is administered in Brighton under a Local Act. For the municipal and parliamentary borough, see Part I.

The large increase of population in St. Peter's Sub-district is attributed to the extension of the railway, and to the enlargement of railway workshops, affording employment to additional workmen; a number of houses have been erected in the vicinity, principally for the accommodation of the workmen. Several new streets have been formed in the south-east part of the Sub-district, leading to the race-course.

86. STEYNING. * The large increase of population in Hove parish is mainly attributed to the spread of the town of Brighton, of which it forms part.
b The increasing demand for timber, and coals for the manufacture of gas, and also for household purposes, in the parishes of Brighton and Hove, has induced the Harbour Commissioners to have a canal cut, extending from the entrance of the harbour to nearly the end of Aldrington parish, where a large basin has been formed in order to allow vessels engaged in the conveyance of such goods to discharge their cargoes. This has led to the erection of a number of houses for the accommodation of the wives and families of seafaring men.
c The increase of population in New Shoreham parish is attributed partly to the extension of the ship-building trade, and partly to the recent discovery of oyster beds on the south-west coast of the channel, which latter cause has induced several families to migrate from Essex to this parish. Not less than 80 smacks, each carrying about five hands, are employed in this parish in the oyster trade. For the parliamentary borough of New Shoreham, see Part I. The return for 1861 includes 351 persons on board vessels.
87. HORSHAM. d The increase of population in West Grinstead parish is attributed to the temporary presence of labourers engaged on the new line of railway from Horsham to Shoreham.

e Part of the Ecclesiastical District of Holy Innocents Southwater is in Shipley parish.
f The parish of Nuthurst includes 52 labourers employed on railway works in 1861.
g The increase of population in Horsham parish is attributed partly to the presence of 161 labourers employed on railway works, and partly to the facilities of railway communication. Villa residences have been erected, and continue to be in great demand. For the Borough of Horsham, see Part I.
h The Ecclesiastical District of Trinity with St. John's Chapel is in the parish of Lower Beeding.
88. PETWORTH. i Bucks Green and Limerick Street are in Rudgwick parish.
k The parish of Billingshurst includes Adversane.
l Wisborough Green parish includes Loxwood End.
m Labour is abundant in the parish of Kirdford, but young persons migrate to towns, where they obtain higher wages than in agricultural pursuits. Plastow is in Kirdford parish.
n For the Town of Petworth, see Part I.
89. THAKEHAM. o Cold Waltham parish includes Watersfield.
p The area of Rackham hamlet is returned with the other part of Amberley parish in the Worthing District (90: 3).
q The parish of Pulborough includes Nutbourne and Wiggonholt.

^a Part of Sullington parish, called Broadbridge Heath, is detached, and locally situate near Horsham.

^b The decrease of population in Thakeham parish is attributed to the circumstance of there being 59 less inmates in the Union Workhouse in 1861 than in 1851. The return includes two detached portions called Muttons Farm and Spear Hill.

^c The return includes two detached parts of the parish of Ashington, locally situate in Wiston parish.

90. WORTHING. ^d The Worthing District is composed of parishes forming the East Preston Incorporation, under 22 Geo. 3. c. 83. (Gilbert's Act), with others still under the 43d Elizabeth for poor relief purposes.

^e The increase of population in Lancing parish is attributed partly to the erection of St. Nicholas College and of the Redoubt, and partly to an extension of market gardening. Many labourers' cottages have been erected.

^f The parish of Broadwater, which includes the Town of Worthing, is situate within the parliamentary borough of New Shoreham, see Part I.

^g The return includes a detached part of the parish of Broadwater, called Little Broadwater, comprising 2 houses and about 140 acres of land, locally situate between Horsham and Nuthurst.

^h The parish of West Tarring includes Salvington.

ⁱ The parish of Durrington includes Coate.

^j The increase of population in Leominster parish is attributed partly to the facility with which freehold land is obtained for building purposes, and partly to the proximity of the parish to the port of Littlehampton. The other part of the parish, viz., Warningcamp tithing, is in Arundel Sub-district (90: 3).

^k For the Town of Littlehampton, see Part I.

^l Barracks in Climping parish have been established since 1851.

^m Arundel has declined in population, there being no manufactures carried on to any extent in the town. The limits of the parliamentary and municipal borough are continuous with each other and with the parish; see Part I.

ⁿ The parish of South Stoke includes Oifham.

^o The parish of North Stoke being wholly agricultural, has declined in population.

^p Raekham hamlet is in Thakeham District (No. 89.); its area is here returned.

91. WESTHAMNETT. ^r The decrease of population in the parishes of Birdham and West Itchenor is attributed to migration, &c.

a The parish of Pagham includes the places called Aldwich, South Mundham, Fore-bridge, Wynter, Lagness, and Rosegreen. b North Mundham parish includes Fisher, Leythorne, Vinetrow, Drayton, and Runcton.
c The increase of population in Rumbolds Wyke parish is attributed to the creation of a number of houses on ground purchased by a Freehold Land Society. Hornet is in Rumbolds Wyke parish.
d The parish of Felpham includes Flansham and Ankon.
e The parish of Middleton includes Elmor.
f The parish of Yapton includes Bilham.
g The Gumber, formerly extra-parochial, has become a part of Slindon parish under the Act of 20 Vict. c. 19; it contained 4 houses and 22 persons in 1861.
h The parish of Aldingbourn includes Lidsey and Westergate.
i The parish of Eartham includes part of Seabeach; the remainder is in Boxgrove parish.
j The parish of Boxgrove includes Crocker Hill and Easthampnett, Hahnaker, the stud of racehorses has been discontinued. Most of the cottages which belonged to the late Duke are occupied by labourers rent-free, or at a nominal rent, on condition that they receive no lodgers or second families. Young men have enlisted in the army, after having first been enrolled in the Sussex militia, and manual labour on large farms has been greatly superseded by steam power.

m The parish of East Lavant includes West Lavant.
92. CHICHESTER. n The Chichester District consists of the Gilbert's Incorporation of Sutton (Sub-districts 1 and 3), and the parishes in Chichester (Sub-district 2). o The decrease of population in the parishes comprising the Sutton Sub-district is mainly attributed to migration to towns.
p The parish of Bury includes West Burton.
q The return for Bignor parish includes the hamlet of Buddington, which is surrounded by Easebourne parish, in Midhurst District (93; 1). r For the city of Chichester, the parliamentary and municipal limits of which are identical, see Part I. s Newtown (or St. John's) and St. James, formerly extra-parochial, have become parishes for the purposes of the Act of 20 Vict. c. 19.

ham Farm.

^h 105. SOUTHAMPTON. ^h The parishes comprised in the District of Southampton are united under a Local Act for purposes connected with the relief of the poor. The area includes that of Portswood tything, a part of the county of the town of Southampton in South Stoneham District (106). For the borough of Southampton, see Part I.
ⁱ The increase of population in the parishes of St. Mary and All Saints is mainly attributed to the extension of the fleet of steam-ships belonging to the different companies connected with the port, many of the hands employed in navigating these vessels when afloat, and in repairing them when in port, being resident with their families in the town. The return for St. Mary includes 887 persons on board vessels.
^j 106. SOUTH STONEHAM. ^j The large increase of population in St. Mary Extra is attributed to the employment afforded to artificers and others in Southampton. The places called Weston, Woolston, Itchenor, and Newtown are in this parish.
^k The increase of population in Hound parish is partly caused by the works in progress at the Victoria Hospital at Netley. The tythings of Satchell, Tholing, and Netley are in this parish.
^l The return includes a detached part of the parish of Bursledon, consisting of two cottages and about an acre of land, locally situate in the parish of South Stoneham.
^m The parish of Botley includes the hamlet of Hedge End.
ⁿ The Ecclesiastical Districts of Portswood, Bittern, and West End are in South Stoneham parish.
^o The large increase of population in Portswood is attributed to the proximity of that place to Southampton, and to the sale of a large landed estate, in lots, for building purposes. The area is returned with that of the Southampton District (105).
^p The increase of population in North Stoneham parish is attributed to the sale of a common for building purposes. The places called Swathling, Middle Stoneham, North End, Burgess Street, and Basset Street are in this parish.
^q The large increase of population in Millbrook parish is attributed to the purchase of an estate by Building Societies. The hamlets of Hill and Sidford, and the Ecclesiastical District of St. James Shirley, are in Millbrook parish.
^r 107. ROMSEY. ^r Part of the Ecclesiastical District of St. John Rownham is in Nursling parish.
^s Romsey Extra includes the places called Ashfield, Toothill, Whitenap, Cuperham, Lee, Mainstone, Ranvills, Spurshot, Stanbridge, Woodbury, and Wools. Romsey Infra forms the municipal borough of Romsey.
^t The parish of Michelmersh includes the hamlets of Awbridge and Braishfield.
^u Dunwood and Melchet Park, formerly extra-parochial, have now become parishes under the Act of 20 Vict. c. 19.
^v The decrease of population in the parish of Plaitford is mainly attributed to the demolition of cottages.

For the parliamentary and municipal borough of Wallingford, see Part I. Wallingford Castle Precinct, formerly extra-parochial, has become a parish for the purposes of the Act of 20 Viet. c. 19. The decrease of population in St. Mary-le-More parish is attributed to the number of inmates in the Union Workhouse being 91 less than in 1851. The parish of Warborough includes the hamlet of Shillingford. The parish of Newington includes (besides Britwell Prior, in the Henley District (155), Division III.) the liberty of Berwick Prior, and the tythings of Brookhampton and Great Holcomb. The parish of Benson (otherwise Bensington) includes the hamlets of Crowmarsh Battle or Preston Crowmarsh, and Roke. The return includes a detached part of the parish of Ewelme called "Hollops," which is situated between the parishes of Nettlebed, Bix, and Swyncombe. Part of the Ecclesiastical District of Stoke Row is in the parishes of Newnham Murren and Mongewell.

126. BRADFELD. The decrease of population in the parishes comprising the Bucklebury Sub-district is mainly attributed to the migration of labourers and others to towns, where higher wages are obtained than in agricultural pursuits.

^k The parish of Bucklebury includes the tythings of Hawkridge and Marlstone.

^l The decrease of population in Aldermaston parish is mainly attributed to migration and emigration of labourers.

^m Part of the Ecclesiastical District of Grazeley is in the parishes of Sulhampstead Bannister and Sulhampstead Abbots.

ⁿ The parish of Tilchurst includes Theale village, Caleot hamlet, and North Street tything.

^o The part of Whitechurch parish in the county of Berks was not separately returned in 1851.

^p The parish of Mapledurham includes the tythings of Chawsey and Gurney.

127. READING. ^a For the Borough of Reading, see Part I.
^b In St. Mary's parish building operations have been largely carried on, and several new streets have been formed.

^c The County Gaol is in St. Lawrence parish.

^d The increase of population in St. Giles parish is mainly attributed to the extension of railway communication.

^e Part of the Ecclesiastical District of Grazeley is in Shinfield parish.

128. WOKINGHAM. ^f The Town of Wokingham possesses a corporation not regulated by the Municipal Corporation Act. Part of the Ecclesiastical District of St. Katharine Bearwood is in Wokingham parish.

^g The remainder of Sonning parish, viz., Eye and Duusden liberty, is in the county of Oxford, in Henley District (155).

^h Part of the Ecclesiastical District of Knowl Hill is in Wargrave parish.

ⁱ Part of the Ecclesiastical District of St. Katharine Bearwood is in the parish of Hurst.

^k Broad Hinton liberty includes part of Twyford hamlet, the other part of which is in Whitley-in-Hurst liberty. Old Warren House (described as extra-parochial, but presumed to be subject to the provisions of the Act 20 Vict. c. 19.), was returned with Broad Hinton in 1851.

129. COOKHAM. ^l The parish of Bray consists of four divisions, viz., Bray, Maidenhead, Touchen, and Water Oakley. The Ecclesiastical District of All Saints Boyne Hill is in Bray parish.

^m The municipal borough of Maidenhead, which is partly in the parishes of Bray and Cookham, contained 3895 inhabitants in 1851.

ⁿ Part of the Ecclesiastical District of Knowl Hill is in Hurley parish.

^o The decrease of population in Bisham parish is mainly attributed to the temporary absence of several large families at the time the Census was taken in 1861. Part of the Ecclesiastical District of St. James Stubbing is in Bisham parish.

130. EASTHAMPESTEAD. ^p Part of the Ecclesiastical District of Holy Trinity Bracknell is in Warfield parish.

Parts of the Ecclesiastical Districts of Holy Trinity Bracknell, and St. Peter Cranbourne, are in the parish of Winkfield.

The increase of population in Sandhurst parish is attributed partly to the presence of a large number of mechanics and others employed in the erection of public buildings, and partly to the improvements made in the parish having induced capitalists to erect houses.

Parts of the Ecclesiastical Districts of St. Peter Cranbourne, and Sunningdale, are in Sunninghill parish.

131. WINDSOR. ^d The other portion of Egham parish is in the Windsor Sub-district. The area of the entire parish is here returned.

^e The other portion of the parish of Old Windsor is in the Windsor Sub-district, where the area of the entire parish is returned.

^f For the parliamentary and municipal borough of Windsor, see Part I.

[§] The increase of population in Clewer parish is attributed partly to the erection of a number of houses, chiefly of the cottage class, and partly to the parish being in close proximity to the borough of Windsor.

ECCLESIASTICAL DISTRICTS.

TABLE (A.)—HOUSES and POPULATION enumerated on April 8th, 1861, in NEW DISTRICT PARISHES and ECCLESIASTICAL DISTRICTS, formed, under the Authority of various Acts of Parliament, by the Ecclesiastical Commissioners—the Commissioners for building New Churches—and the Bishops of the several Dioceses.

. The boundaries of these Ecclesiastical subdivisions are not generally known, and considerable difficulty has, in some cases, been experienced in preparing from the Census returns a statement of the population. The numbers here given have been in every instance submitted to the Inspection of the Incumbents of the various Ecclesiastical Districts and New Parishes, but their absolute correctness cannot be vouched for.

The return does not include persons on board vessels lying in waters contiguous to the Districts or Parishes.

Where the original limits of an Ecclesiastical District have been altered by a Supplemental Order, the return of houses and population applies to the District as it stood at the date of the Census.

PERSONS ON BOARD VESSELS.

TABLE (C).—NUMBER of PERSONS on board VESSELS in HARBOURS, RIVERS, and CREEKS on the Night of April 7th, 1861, returned with the General Population of Parishes, &c.*

Note.—In order that persons on board ship might, as far as practicable, be assigned to the Districts contiguous to the waters in which the vessels were lying, the Officers of Customs at the various Ports, and the local Registrars, were put in communication, and were instructed to take such steps as would admit of the numbers being stated for each Sub-district; and the form of the return has also enabled these to be localised to their several parishes and places. Although, from the extent of many of the Ports, and the difficulty of attending strictly to boundaries as applied to water, complete accuracy was scarcely attainable, it is believed that the numbers thus returned are sufficiently correct for all general purposes.

NOTE.—The new District Parishes and Ecclesiastical Districts formed under the authority of various Acts of Parliament will be found returned in a supplemental Table (A.) at the end of the return of population, &c. in parishes.

The letter (W) denotes that a Workhouse is situate within the limits of the parish or place, and included in the return. A Table showing the number of persons in the principal Public Institutions in each District will be found at the end of the Division; see Table (B.)

Persons on board vessels on the night of April 7th, 1861, are returned with the general population; for details, see Table (C.)

The names of places printed in capitals (thus, STAINES) are those of parishes which contain Towns of the same name; Cities and Boroughs are distinguished in the same manner. A detailed statement of the population of the Cities, Boroughs, and Towns of upwards of 2000 inhabitants is given under the respective Counties in Part I.

Where the name of the Registration or Union County in which a parish or place is returned is different from that of the county proper to which it belongs, the latter is stated in italics.

The AREAS of parishes and places are reprinted from the Census Tables of 1851; the quantities distinguished by a different type (thus, 1060, Littleton) were assigned to the parishes and places by the late Mr. Rickman in the Enumeration Abstract for 1851; in these cases the records in the custody of the Tithe Commissioners did not supply the means of arriving at a more accurate result. The Areas marked thus (w) include Water or Sea Coast; for details, see Table (D.)

132. STAINES. ^a The parish of Shepperton includes the hamlet of Lower Halliford.

^b The parish of Sunbury includes the hamlets of Upper Halliford and Charlton.

140. ROYSTON. ^a The Royston District comprises two Poor Law Unions, viz., Royston (Sub-districts 2 and 3) and Buntingford (Sub-district 1).

^b The Town of Buntingford is situate in the four parishes of Wyddiall, Throcking, Layston, and Aspeden.

^c The parish of Buckland includes the village of Chipping.

^d The decrease of population in Layston parish is attributed partly to the demolition of five houses and the discontinuance of four others as dwelling-houses, and partly to a reduction in the number of inmates in the Union Workhouse.

^e Wakely and Broadfield, formerly extra-parochial, have become parishes for the purposes of the Act of 20 Vict. c. 19.

^f The parish of Wallington includes part of the village of Red Hill, the remainder of which is in Sandon parish.

^g The parish of Barkway includes the hamlet of Newsells.

^h The decrease of population in Heydon parish is attributed to emigration.

ⁱ The decrease of population in Abington-in-the-Clay parish is attributed to the removal of cottages.

^k The decrease of population in Whaddon, Meldreth, Barrington, Foxton, Thriplow, and Foulmire parishes is attributed to emigration. The return for Foxton parish in 1861 includes 17 persons attending a fair.

^l The decrease of population in Melbourn and Litlington parishes is attributed to emigration, and to migration of young persons to London and other large towns.

141. HITCHIN. ^m The decrease of population in Norton, Willian, and Great Wymondley parishes is attributed partly to the dilapidated state of cottage property. Many of the cottages are said to have only one room fit for occupancy.

153. NEWPORT PAGNELL. ^a The area of Church-end township (Shenley parish) is returned with the other part of Shenley parish in the Winslow District (152).

^b The township of Bletchley, Water Eaton hamlet, and part of the township of Fenny Stratford, constitute the parish of Bletchley.

^c The decrease of population in Great Brickhill parish is attributed partly to the removal of cottages, partly to emigration, and partly to the migration of young persons.

^d Bradwell Abbey, Olney Park Farm, and Petsoe Manor, formerly extra-parochial, have become parishes for the purposes of the Act 20 Vict. c. 19. Olney Park Farm was included in Olney parish in 1851.

^e The decrease of population in Newton Blossomville and Ravenstone parishes is mainly attributed to emigration.

^f The increase of population in Hanslope parish is attributed to the presence of a number of mechanics engaged at Wolverton Factory.

154. BUCKINGHAM. ^g Luffield Abbey, described as extra-parochial, is presumed to be subject to the provisions of the Act 20 Vict. c. 19. There were no houses at the Census of 1861 on that part of the estate which is situate in Northamptonshire.

^h Oldwick, formerly extra-parochial has become a parish for the purposes of the Act 20 Vict. c. 19.

156. THAME. * The other part of the parish of Lewknor is in the Wycombe District (150).

† Attington, formerly extra-parochial, has become a parish for the purposes of Act 20 Vict. c. 19.

‡ The decrease of population in Long Crendon parish is attributed partly to emigration, and partly to the migration of families to Redditch in Worcestershire, in order to obtain employment in the manufacture of needles.

157. HEADINGTON. † Shotover Hill Place, formerly reputed to be extra-parochial, and returned with Shotover in 1851, is now a parish for the purposes of the Act 20 Vict. c. 19.

‡ The increase of population in Forest Hill parish is attributed to the practice adopted by the farmers of hiring farm servants from other parishes.

¶ The increase of population in Headington and Cowley is attributed to the contiguity of those parishes to the city of Oxford.

^a The remainder of Littlemore liberty is in the parish of St. Mary-the-Virgin (Oxford), and in the Abingdon District (123).

158. OXFORD. ^b For the City of Oxford, see Part I. The Colleges and Halls of the University of Oxford are here separately entered, as in former Census Abstracts, under the parishes in which they are wholly or for the most part locally situated. With the exception of Christchurch, which is not yet rated to the poor, the Colleges in the Oxford District are rated under a special Act of Parliament, not in the several parishes in which they stand, and the rate is paid in by the University. The area of the parishes of St. John and St. Giles, of Merton and Corpus Christi Colleges, and St. Alban Hall (all in the Headington District), is returned with the area of the Oxford District (158).

^c The decrease of population in St. Peter-in-the-East parish is attributed to the absence of the members of the University during the Easter vacation.

^d The decrease of population in the parish of St. Mary-the-Virgin is attributed to the absence of the members of the University during the Easter vacation. The other part of St. Mary-the-Virgin parish, viz., part of Littlemore liberty, is in the Abingdon District (123), Div. II.

^e The increase of population in the parish of St. Thomas is attributed to the erection of houses near the railway.

159. BICESTER. The decrease of population in Middleton-Stoney parish is attributed to the partial occupation only of the Earl of Jersey's residence at Middleton.

161. WITNEY. a The decrease of population in the parish of Handborough is attributed to the absence of a number of labourers employed in 1851 on railway works.
b The increase of population in the parish of Ensham is attributed mainly to the presence of labourers temporarily employed on railway works.
c The larger part of Shipton-under-Wychwood parish is in the Chipping Norton District (162).
d Brices Lodge and Stonelands, described as extra-parochial, are presumed to have become subject to the provisions of the Act 20 Vict. c. 19. The area of Stonelands is stated to be about 20 poles.
e The other part of Broadwell (or Bradwell) parish, viz., Kelnscott Township, is in the Faringdon District (122).

f The part of Broughton Poggs parish situate in Gloucestershire is known as Great Lemhill Farm, formerly a detached part of Oxfordshire.
g The decrease of population in Burford parish is attributed partly to migration into the manufacturing districts, and partly to the incorporation of small farms.
162. CHIPPING NORTON. h The area stated for Shipton-under-Wychwood parish includes a large tract of Wychwood Forest. Ramsden township in this parish is in Witney Sub-district (161: 3).
i Cornbury Park, formerly extra-parochial, has now become a parish for the purposes of Act 20 Vict. c. 19. The area of Cornbury Park is returned with Charlbury parish.

^a The parish of Wychwood has been formed out of parts of Wychwood Forest included in 1851 in Leafield, Shorthampton, and Ascot-under-Wychwood. (See 16 & 17 Vict. c. 36. s. 14. Shocks Coppice, described as extra-parochial, was returned with Shorthampton in 1851.

^b The decrease of population in Long Compton parish is attributed to migration into the manufacturing districts.

^c The township of Chipping Norton includes the Borough of Chipping Norton (see Part I.)

163. BANBURY. ^d The decrease of population in Hook-Norton parish is attributed to the closing of a private lunatic asylum, and to emigration.

^e The decrease of population in the parish of Barford St. Michael is attributed to the migration of families to Sheffield and other towns.

* Sibford Ferris and Sibford Gower constitute the new District parish of Sibford, which is stated to have now no connection, either civilly or ecclesiastically, with the mother parish of Swalcliffe.

† The other part of Croppedy parish (viz., Wardington) is in Banbury Sub-district (163: 4).

‡ The decrease of population in Wardington chapelry is attributed to migration.

§ The increase of population in Grimsbury hamlet is attributed to the erection of houses by a Freehold Land Society on an estate now called New Grimsbury.

¶ For the Borough of Banbury, see Part I.

164. BRACKLEY. † The decrease of population in Kings Sutton parish is attributed to the absence of a number of labourers engaged in 1851 on railway works.

171. WELLINGBOROUGH. ^a The increase of population in Irchester parish is attributed partly to the New Midland or Leicester and Hitchin Railway passing through the village, and partly to the discovery of iron-stone in the neighbourhood.
^b Higham Park, formerly extra-parochial, is now a parish for the purposes of Act 20 Vict. c. 19.
^c The increase of population in the parish of Fineton is attributed to the extension of the shoe manufacture.

172. KETTERING. ^c Barford, formerly described as extra-parochial, is included with Glendon parish, to the poor rate of which it is said to contribute.

173. THRAPSTON. a The increase of population in the parishes of Woodford, Denford, Ringstead, Raunds, and Stanwick is attributed to the extension of the shoe manufacture.

174. OUNDLE. b The boundaries of the portions of Winwick parish respectively in Northamptonshire and Huntingdonshire are not accurately defined; this will account for the discrepancy between the numbers returned in 1851 and 1861.

The parish of Lutton is also called Luddington-in-the-Wold.

d The Lodge in Rockingham Forest, Spa Lodge and West Hay, Moorhay Lodge, Sulehay Lodge, and Locks Lodge, described as extra-parochial, and returned with adjoining parishes in 1851, are presumed to have become subject to the provisions of the Act 20 Vict. c. 19.

e Bulwick-Short-Leys, formerly extra-parochial, is now a parish for the purposes of the Act 20 Vict. c. 19.

f The decrease of population in Nassington parish is attributed to the migration of families.

* Crosswayham Lodge, described as extra-parochial, is presumed to have become subject to the provisions of the Act 20 Vict. c. 19.

175. PETERBOROUGH. b The decrease of population in the parish of Stilton is attributed to the removal of traffic from the Great North Road, which passes through this parish.

c Standground (Hunts and Cambridge) and Farett constitute the parish of Standground. In 1851 the entire parish was returned in Huntingdon.

d The large increase of population in Fletton parish is attributed to the residence of persons employed by several railway companies.

e For the City of Peterborough within the parliamentary limits, see Part I.

f Minster Close Precincts, formerly extra-parochial, are now a parish for the purposes of Act 20 Vict. c. 19.

^a For the Borough of Bedford, see Part I.

^b The other portions of the parishes of St. Peter, St. Paul, St. Mary, and St. John, which are within the Western Ward of the borough of Bedford, are in Bedford and Cardington Sub-district (179: 6).

^c The hamlet of Beeston is partly in Northill parish and partly in Sandy parish; the part in Sandy is not rated separately from the rest of that parish.

180. BIGGLESWADE. ^d The increase of population in the parishes of Stotfold and Arley is attributed to the establishment in the latter of two large factories for the manufacture of perforated bricks.

188. LINTON. a The increase of population in Sawston and Whittlesford parishes is attributed to the establishment of a paper-mill and parchment factory in the former. Duxford consists of the ancient parishes of St. John and St. Peter, which are distinct benefices, but the boundaries of each are not accurately known; for civil purposes they form one parish. The decrease of population in Ickleton and Hinxton parishes is attributed to emigration. The decrease of population in most of the parishes comprising the Linton Sub-district, and especially in the parish of Linton, is attributed to emigration, and to migration of labourers to towns. Ashdon parish is chiefly in Saffron Walden District (210, Div. IV.), where the area of Bartlow-End is returned.

f The decrease of population in Balsham and West Wrattling parishes is mainly attributed to emigration. 189. NEWMARKET g The decrease of population in the parishes of Burrough-Green and Kirtling is mainly attributed to emigration. h The increase of population in Newmarket All Saints is attributed to the proximity of the parish to the railway station in the adjoining parish of Wood-Ditton. i The general decrease of population throughout this Sub-district is mainly attributed to emigration, and the migration of labourers. k The hamlet of Reach does not separately maintain its poor. Swaffham Prior consists of the joint parishes of St. Cyriac and St. Mary. l The decrease of population in Soham and Isleham parishes is attributed partly to emigration, and partly to migration to the metropolis and other large towns.

190. ELY. ^a The decrease of population in Stretham and Haddenham parishes is attributed partly to emigration, and partly to migration to the manufacturing districts. The return for the hamlet of Thetford in 1851 included strangers attending the annual village feast.

^b Grunty Fen and Ely College, described as extra-parochial, are presumed to be subject to the provisions of the Act 20 Vict. c. 19.

^c The remainder of Wentworth parish, without houses or inhabitants, is in Littleport Sub-district.

^d The decrease of population in this part of Witcham parish (the other part of which is in Littleport Sub-district, 190 : 4), is attributed partly to emigration, and partly to the migration of labourers to the manufacturing districts.

^e The other part of Coveney parish, viz., Manea Chapelry, is in the North Wichford District (191).

^f The remainder of Witchford parish is in the Littleport Sub-district 190 : 4.

^g This portion of the parish of Ely St. Mary, which is detached from the main body of the parish (see Ely Sub-district 190 : 3), is uninhabited.

^h Ely Trinity parish is wholly comprised in Sub-districts 190 : 2, 3 and 4. The parts of the hamlet of Witcham Gravel (190 : 2.) respectively belonging to Ely Trinity and Witcham parishes, cannot be distinguished; nor can the parts of Ely Westmoor Fen (190 : 4) which belong respectively to Ely Trinity, and Ely St. Mary.

ⁱ Ely St. Mary parish is wholly comprised in Sub-districts 190 : 2, 3, 4. The part situate in the Sutton Sub-district (190 : 2) is without houses and inhabitants, and the part returned with Ely Westmoor Fen (190 : 4) cannot be separately returned.

^j This part of Wentworth parish is without houses or inhabitants.

191. NORTH WITCHFORD. ^l The other part of Coveney parish is in Ely District (190).

^m The decrease of population in the parish of Chatteris is attributed partly to emigration, partly to migration to Manchester and its vicinity, and partly to the removal of cottages.

ⁿ The decrease of population in the parish of Doddington (part of which is in the March Sub-district, 191 : 2), is attributed to migration to the manufacturing districts.

192. WHITTLESEY. ^o The decrease of population in Whittlesey District is attributed to the migration of many families to the manufacturing districts.

193. WISBECH. ^p The decrease of population in the parish of Wisbech St. Mary is mainly attributed to emigration, and migration to London and the North of England.

a The decrease of population in the parish of Wisbech St. Peter is attributed partly to the fact that the return for 1851 included about 150 strangers attending the "Annual Mart," and partly to the depression of the shipping trade. The Municipal Borough of Wisbech is co-extensive with the parish of Wisbech St. Peter.

b Wingland near Walpole St. Peter and Wingland near Terrington St. Clement, described as extra-parochial, consist of land reclaimed from the sea. The portion of Wingland adjoining Terrington St. Clement is without inhabitants; other parts of Wingland adjoin Tydd St. Mary and Sutton St. Mary, Holbeach District (424), where their populations are returned.

c The return for the parish of Clenchwarton in 1851 included 146 labourers employed by the Norfolk Estuary Company.

d The decrease of population in the parishes of Tilney All Saints and Tilney St. Lawrence is mainly attributed to emigration.

e The area of Terrington St. John is returned with that of Terrington St. Clement.

f Part of the area of Emneth is returned with that of the Norfolk part of Outwell parish (193: 6).

g The decrease of population in the part of the parish of Upwell situate in this Sub-district is attributed partly to emigration, partly to the absence of labourers employed in 1851 on the Middle Level drainage works, and partly to the migration of families to London and other large towns. The other part of Upwell parish, viz., Welney Chapelry, is in Downham District (247, Div. IV.)

ECCLESIASTICAL DISTRICTS.

TABLE (A.)—HOUSES and POPULATION enumerated on April 8th, 1861, in NEW DISTRICT PARISHES and ECCLESIASTICAL DISTRICTS formed, under the Authority of various Acts of Parliament, by the Ecclesiastical Commissioners—the Commissioners for building New Churches—and the Bishops of the several Dioceses.

 The boundaries of these Ecclesiastical subdivisions are not generally known, and considerable difficulty has in some cases been experienced in preparing from the Census returns a statement of the population. The Numbers here given have been in every instance submitted to the inspection of the Incumbents of the various Ecclesiastical Districts and New Parishes, but their absolute correctness cannot be vouched for.
The return does not include persons on board vessels lying in waters contiguous to the Districts or Parishes.
Where the original limits of an Ecclesiastical District have been altered by a Supplemental Order, the return of houses and population applies to the District as it stood at the date of the Census.

PERSONS ON BOARD VESSELS.

TABLE (C.)—NUMBER of PERSONS on board VESSELS in HARBOURS, RIVERS, and CREEKS on the Night of April 7th, 1861, returned with the General Population of Parishes, &c.*

Note.—In order that persons on board ship might, as far as is practicable, be assigned to the Districts contiguous to the waters in which the vessels were lying, the Officers of Customs at the various Ports, and the local Registrars, were put in communication, and were instructed to take such steps as would admit of the numbers being stated for each sub-district; and the form of the return has also enabled these to be localised to their several parishes and places. Although, from the extent of many of the Ports, and the difficulty of attending strictly to boundaries as applied to water, complete accuracy was scarcely attainable, it is believed that the numbers thus returned are sufficiently correct for all general purposes.

NOTE.—The new District Parishes and Ecclesiastical Districts formed under the authority of various Acts of Parliament, will be found returned in a supplemental Table (A.) at the end of the return of population, &c. in parishes.

The letter (W) denotes that a Workhouse is situate within the limits of the parish or place, and included in the return. A Table showing the number of persons in the principal Public Institutions in each District will be found at the end of the Division ; see Table (B.)

Persons on board vessels on the night of April 7th, 1861, are returned with the general population ; for details, see Table (C.)

The names of places printed in capitals (thus, EPPING) are those of parishes which contain Towns of the same name ; Cities and Boroughs are distinguished in the same manner. A detailed statement of the population of the Cities, Boroughs, and Towns of upwards of 2000 inhabitants is given under the respective counties in Part I.

Where the name of the Registration or Union County in which a parish or place is returned is different from that of the county proper to which it belongs, the latter is stated in italics.

The AREAS of parishes and places are reprinted from the Census Tables of 1851 ; the quantities distinguished by a different type (thus, 3170, Loughton) were assigned to the parishes and places by the late Mr. Rickman in the Enumeration Abstract for 1831 ; in these cases the records in the custody of the Tithe Commissioners did not supply the means of arriving at a more accurate result. The Areas marked thus (w) include Water or Sea Coast ; for details, see Table (D.)

194. WEST HAM. a The large increase of population in the Stratford Sub-district is attributed to the establishment of manufactories belonging to the Eastern Counties Railway, the operations of Building Societies, and the erection of the Victoria Docks and iron ship building establishments.

b The large increase of population in the West Ham Sub-district is attributed to the establishment of coke ovens, the Victoria Docks, and india-rubber and chemical works, the opening of a railway station, &c. The return for 1861 includes 677 persons on board vessels.

c The increase of population in the parish of East Ham is attributed partly to the establishment of Industrial Schools belonging to St. George's-in-the-East, and partly to the opening of a railway station.

d The increase of population in the parish of Little Ilford is confined to a part of the parish called Green Hill Grove, where a village has sprung up.

e The increase of population in Walthamstow is attributed to the proximity of the parish to London, and to the operations of Building Societies.

f The increase of population in the parish of Woodford is attributed to the erection of houses consequent upon railway communication with London.

195. EPPING. g The increase of population in the parishes comprising the Chigwell Sub-district is attributed partly to the opening of a branch line of the Eastern Counties Railway, and partly to the operations of a Freehold Land Society.

h The decrease of population in Thoydon-Garnon parish is mainly attributed to the temporary absence of several families at the time the Census was taken, and to the decline of a large school.

i The decrease of population in Latton parish is attributed to migration.

196. ONGAR. * The decrease of population in the parishes of Stanford-Rivers, Navestock, Stapleford-Tawney, and Thoydon-Mount is attributed partly to the temporary absence of some of the principal families, and partly to the migration of labourers, owing to want of employment, &c.

197. ROMFORD. ^b The increase of population in Romford is attributed mainly to the advantages of railway communication.

The area assigned to Dagenham parish includes 1359 acres in Hainault Forest. The increase of population in Great Ilford and Chadwell Wards is attributed to the clearing of part of Hainault Forest, a large tract of which has been brought into cultivation. Barking parish is comprised in the Ilford and Barking Town sub-districts.

The increase of population in Great Warley is partly attributed to the proximity of the parish to the market town of Brentwood.

198. ORSETT. ^c The increase of population in South Ockendon parish is mainly attributed to the conversion of a large farm into a market garden, and to extensive drainage operations.

^e The increase of population in the parish of West Thurrock is attributed to the augmentation of the Ordnance establishment at Purfleet, and to a railway passing through the parish.

^h The increase of population in Grays-Thurrock parish is attributed to the establishment of a chemical manufactory, and to a railway passing through the parish.

ⁱ In 1851, the families of the military stationed at Tilbury Fort were included in the return for West Tilbury parish, although the fort is situate partly in the parish of Chadwell St. Mary and partly in West Tilbury parish; hence the apparent decrease of population in the latter. The return for West Tilbury parish in 1851 also included above 100 emigrants waiting at Tilbury Fort for embarkation to Canada.

^k The decrease of population in Little Warley parish is attributed to a reduction in the number of military stationed at the barracks. The numbers returned at the Censuses of 1851 and 1861 were 644 and 159 respectively.

199. BILLERICAY. ^a The increase of population in South Weald parish is attributed to the residence of a number of persons connected with the railway, with the County Lunatic Asylum, and with the barracks, the last mentioned being situate in Little Warley parish. The Shoreditch (London) Industrial School is included in the return for 1861.

^b The increase of population in Shenfield parish is attributed to the opening of a railway station.

^c The decrease of population in Great Burstead parish is attributed to the absence of railway communication and to a reduction in the number of inmates in the Union Workhouse.

^d Laindon and Basildon (in the Wickford Sub-district) constitute the parish of Laindon.

^e The parishes of Vange, Pitsea, Bowers-Gifford, and North Benfleet include parts of Canvey Island, amounting in the aggregate to 139 persons in 24 houses. The other part of Canvey Island is in the Rochford District (201).

200. CHELMSFORD. ^f The decrease of population in the parishes of Stock, Margaretting, and Fryerning is attributed partly to the entrance of young men into the army and merchant service, and partly to migration.

^g The increase of population in Widford parish is mainly attributed to the occupancy of a mansion which was uninhabited in 1851.

^h The parish of Great Leighs includes Chatley Hamlet, which contained 644 persons in 1861.

ⁱ The parish of Little Baddow includes Middlemead hamlet, which contained 188 persons in 1861.

^k The decrease of population in Danbury parish is attributed to migration, partly owing to the introduction of steam thrashing.

201. ROCHFORD. a The decrease of population in the parishes of Rawreth, Hockley, and Eastwood is attributed to the removal of labourers and others to Shoeburyness and Southend, in order to obtain employment in brick-making. The part of Eastwood parish in Wallisea Island is in the Rochford Sub-district (201 : 3).
The parishes of South Benfleet, Hadleigh, Prittlewell, and Southchurch include parts of Canvey Island, amounting in the aggregate to 102 persons in 17 houses. Other parts of Canvey Island belong to parishes in the Billericay District (199).
Prittlewell parish includes Southend, a small town much resorted to as a watering-place since the extension of railway communication with London. Many uses have been built for residents.
The decrease of population in Canewdon parish is said to be partly owing to the residence of the farmers in other parishes.
The increase of population in South Shoebury parish is attributed partly to the erection of the Royal Artillery Barracks at Shoeburyness, and partly to the opening of a large brickfield.

f Havengore Island, formerly extra-parochial, has now become a parish for the purposes of Act 20 Vict. c. 19.
202. s MALDON. The decrease of population in Althorne parish is partly attributable to the migration of agricultural labourers.
h Snoreham and Latchingdon form one parish for all purposes connected with the relief of the poor.
i The decrease of population in Purleigh parish is mainly attributed to migration.
k For the Borough of Maldon, see Part I. l The decrease of population in Little Totham parish is attributed to migration.
m The increase of population in Tollesbury parish is attributed to improved house accommodation, and to the residence of young men apprenticed to oyster dredgers.

203. TENDRING. ^a The decrease of population in the parishes of this Sub-district is mainly attributed to the migration of young persons to London and other large towns.

^b For the Borough of Harwich, see Part I.

^c The increase of population in St. Nicholas is partly attributed to the temporary residence of wives and families of seamen belonging to H.M. ship "Pembroke," and the gun-boat "Magnet," which were lying within the harbour at the time the Census was taken. Several houses have been erected for the coast-guard officers. The return includes 479 persons on board vessels.

^d The shipping trade in Manningtree is said to have declined in consequence of the greater facility of transit afforded by railway, and many families have left the parish.

^e The decrease of population in Ardleigh parish is attributed mainly to the removal of a large gipsy camp, and of a number of navvies employed on railway works, included in the return for 1851.

204. COLCHESTER. ^a For the Borough of Colchester, see Part I.

^b The large increase of population in St. Botolph parish is attributed to the formation of a military camp in the neighbourhood.

^c No Man's Land, described as extra-parochial, and returned with Mile End in 1851, is presumed to have become subject to the provisions of the Act 20 Vict. c. 19.

^d The increase of population in the parishes of St. Nicholas and All Saints is attributed to the proximity of the military camp.

205. LEXDEN. ¹ The increase of population in the parish of East Donyland is attributed to the extension of the oyster fishery.

221. SAMFORD. ^a The decrease of population in Higham parish is mainly ascribed to emigration.
222. IPSWICH. ^b For the Borough of Ipswich, see Part I.
^c The large increase of population in the parishes of St. Mary-Stoke and St. Peter is attributed to the advantages of railway communication.
^d A large number of houses and villa residences have been erected in the parish of St. Matthew since 1851.
^e Shire-Hall-Yard, formerly extra-parochial, has now become a parish for the purposes of the Act 20 Vict. c. 19. A number of houses have been erected in this parish on land belonging to the Ipswich Charity.
^f Warren Houses and Felaws Houses, formerly extra-parochial, are now parishes for the purposes of the Act 20 Vict. c. 19.
^g The increase of population in St. Stephen's parish is ascribed to the proximity of the parish to the docks, quays, wharves, and other places of business.
^h The large increase of population in St. Margaret's parish is mainly attributed to the erection of villa residences.
ⁱ Cold Dunghills, High Street, and George Street, formerly extra-parochial, are now parishes for the purposes of the Act 20 Vict. c. 19.
223. WOODBRIDGE. ^k Purdis Farm, Alnesbourn Priory, and Stratton Hall Farm formerly extra-parochial, have now become parishes for the purposes of the Act 20 Vict. c. 19.
^l The decrease of population in Nacton parish is attributed partly to a reduction in the number of inmates in the Union Workhouse, and partly to the demolition of cottages. Alnesbourn Priory and Purdis Farm were included in the return for Nacton parish in 1851.

The decrease of population in Newbourn parish is attributed to want of employment, owing to the lessened demand for coprolites.
 * The decrease of population in the parishes of Sutton, Bawdsey, and Boyton is mainly attributed to the migration of labourers, employed in digging coprolites, to Cambridgeshire, where more available deposits have been discovered.
 The decrease of population in the parish of Woodbridge is attributed partly to depression in the local shipping trade, and the consequent removal of owners to other ports, and partly to the discontinuance of tan and shipbuilding yards.
 The decrease of population in the parish of Ufford is partly attributable to the temporary absence of a large family.
 24. PLOMESGATE. * The decrease of population in Cretingham parish is mainly attributed to emigration.

† The decrease of population in the parishes of Brandeston, Framlingham, and Parham is ascribed to the migration of young persons.
 ‡ The decrease of population in Wickham-Market parish is attributed to a reduction in the number of inmates in the Union Workhouse.
 § Gedgrave and Havergate Island, formerly extra-parochial, are now parishes for the purposes of the Act 20 Vict. c. 19.
 ¶ The decrease of population in the parishes of Orford and Sudbourne is attributed to the migration of families engaged in the shipping trade, in consequence of the opening of a railway in the neighbourhood.
 * The decrease of population in Friston, Bruisyard, and Rendham is attributed to the migration of labourers.

225. BLYTHING. ^a The decrease of population in most of the parishes comprised in the Blything District is mainly attributed to the migration of labourers to the manufacturing districts.
^b The increase of population in the parish of Leiston is attributed to the establishment of an extensive agricultural machine and implement manufactory.

^c Nowhere House, described as extra-parochial, is presumed to be subject to the provisions of the Act 20 Vict. c. 19.
226. WANGFORD. ^d The decrease of population in several of the parishes in the Wangford District is attributed to the migration of labourers.

226. WANGFORD. * The decrease of population in the parishes of St. Andrew Ilketshall and Beccles is attributed to migration. The Borough of Beccles is co-extensive with the parish.

227. MUTFORD. b The decrease of population in Mutford parish is attributed to the removal of families to parishes on the sea-coast, in order to obtain employment at the herring fisheries.

c The increase of population in the parish of Kessingland is attributed to the extension of the herring fishery.

d The increase of population in Kirkley parish is attributed partly to the success of herring fishing, partly to the proximity of the parish to the town of Lowestoft, and partly to the employment of labourers and others at Lowestoft Harbour.

e The large increase of population in Lowestoft is attributed partly to the resort of persons to the parish as a watering-place, and partly to the parish having become a fishing station through the facilities afforded by the harbour. The return includes 121 persons on board vessels.

f The decrease of population in the parish of Hopton is ascribed to the removal of several large families.

g The increase of population in Burgh-Castle parish is attributed to the construction of the East Suffolk Railway, and to the establishment of cement works.

h The increase of population in Gorleston parish is attributed to its proximity to Yarmouth. Many fishermen from Barking have come to live in Gorleston.

228. YARMOUTH. i The increase of population in Great Yarmouth is mainly attributed to the resort of persons to the town, as a watering-place, and to the extension of the fishing trade. For the Borough of Great Yarmouth, see Part I. The return includes 257 persons attending a fair, and 231 persons on board vessels.

229. FLEGG. k The increase of population in the parish of Caistor-next-Yarmouth is attributed to the establishment of life-boat and coast-guard stations.

l The return for Runham includes a detached part of the parish called "New Runham" or "Vauxhall" (population in 1861 53), immediately adjoining Yarmouth, and on which the terminus of the Norwich and Yarmouth Railway, fish offices, and manure works have been established. It enjoys all the advantages of the town of Yarmouth, while the rates are considerably lower.

m Nowhere, deemed extra-parochial, was returned with Runham parish in 1851; it includes Skeetholme, Foldholme, and Stargap.

^a The increase of population in Seraby parish is attributed partly to the establishment of a life-boat station, and partly to the migration of beachmen and fishermen from adjacent parishes to a part of this parish at the edge of the cliff, called "California."

^b The decrease of population in Hemsby parish is attributed to the migration of beachmen and fishermen to Seraby parish.

230. TUNSTEAD. ^c The decrease of population in most of the parishes comprised in the Tunstead District, which forms the "Tunstead and Happing Incorporation" for the support of the poor, is attributed to emigration and the migration of young persons to other parts.

^d The decrease of population in the parish of Bacton is attributed partly to the adoption of a seafaring life by boys and young men.

231. ERPINGHAM. ^e The Erpingham District comprises the Erpingham Union and the Brinton Incorporation, the latter consisting of the parishes of Brinton and Melton Constable with Burgh-Parva. ^a The decrease of population in Colby, Scotow, and Marsham parishes is attributed to migration.

233. ST. FAITHS. ^b The decrease of population in most of the parishes comprised in the District of St. Faiths is attributed to the migration of labourers and their families to the manufacturing districts.

^c The decrease of population in the parish of Alderford is attributed to the demolition of cottages.

^d The other part of Hellesdon parish is in the city of Norwich, in the Norwich District (234).

^e The area of the parish of St. Mary-in-the-Marsh is included with that of the city of Norwich.

234. NORWICH. ^f The parishes and places forming Norwich District are incorporated under a Local Act for the maintenance of the poor.

^g For the City of Norwich, which is a county of itself, see Part I.

^h The remainder of the parish of Hellesdon is in St. Faiths District (233).

ⁱ The increase of population in St. Clement's parish is attributed partly to the removal of families from St. Augustine's parish.

236. HENSTEAD. ^a The decrease of population in the parishes of Dunston, Saxlingham-Nethergate, Shottesham All Saints, Great Poringland, and Little Poringland is attributed partly to the removal of a large mustard, starch, and gum factory from the parish of Stoke Holy Cross to Norwich.
^b The increase of population in Bramerton parish is attributed to the migration of several families from Norwich.

^c The remainder of the parish of Trowse (otherwise Trowse-Newton) is in the county of the city of Norwich, and in the Norwich District (234).
237. BLOFIELD. ^d The increase of population in the parish of Thorpe St. Andrew is attributed to the erection of houses within a short distance of Norwich. The other part of the parish, viz., Thorpe Hamlet, is in the Norwich District (234).
^e The decrease of population in the parishes of Ranworth and South Walsham St. Mary is attributed to the removal of families into other parishes and to emigration.

^a The decrease of population in the parish of Freethorpe is attributed partly to the migration of young persons and partly to emigration.

^b Parts of the following parishes, in the South Walsham Sub-district, are situated on the marshes at distances varying from two to seven miles from the respective villages:—South Walsham St. Lawrence, Upton, Acle, Halvergate, Tunstall, Wickhampton, Freethorpe, and Reedham.

238. LODDON. ^c The decrease of population in the parishes of Norton-Subcourse, Haddiscoe, Burgh St. Peter, Geldeston, Burgh-Apton, and Brooke is attributed to the migration of labourers and others to towns.

^d The decrease of population in the parishes of Broome, Woodton, Bedingham, and Topcroft is attributed partly to emigration, and partly to the removal of young men, for more remunerative employment, to towns.

239. DEPWADE. ^e The decrease of population in several of the parishes in this District is attributed to the migration of labourers into the mining and manufacturing districts, and to London.

^a 240. GUILTCROSS. The decrease of population in most of the parishes of this District is attributed partly to the migration of labourers to towns and manufacturing districts. In some parishes it has also been consequent upon the failure of hand-loom hemp-cloth weaving.

^b 241. WAYLAND. The general decrease of population in the Attleborough Sub-district is mainly attributed to emigration. The increase of population in the parish of Little Ellingham is attributed to the erection of a steam corn and seed mill.

242. MITFORD. ^a The decrease of population in most of the parishes comprised in the Mitford District is attributed to the migration of labourers to towns, and to Yorkshire and Northumberland, &c.

^b The increase of population in Scarning is attributed to the proximity of the parish to the town of East Dereham.

^c The return for North Elmham in 1861 includes 89 strangers attending a fair.

243. WALSINGHAM. a Alethorpe, formerly extra-parochial, is now a parish for the purposes of Act 20 Vict. c. 19.

b The decreased return of population in the parish of Great Ryburgh is partly owing to the fact that in 1851 several labourers were engaged on railway works.

c The decrease of population in most of the parishes comprising the Walsingham Sub-district, and especially in the parishes of Houghton-in-the-Hole and North Barsham, is attributed to migration and want of sufficient cottage accommodation.

d The decrease of population in Little Walsingham parish is attributed partly to the removal of inmates from the Bridewell to Swaffham, Wymondham, and Norwich, partly to the breaking up of schools, and partly to the migration of labourers.

e The decrease of population in the parishes of Wells-next-the-Sea and Holkham is partly attributed to the depression of the shipping trade, owing to the facilities of railway communication, and partly to the fact that a number of labourers and artisans were temporarily employed in 1851 on Lord Leicester's estate at Holkham.

f Quarles Farm, formerly extra-parochial, is now a parish for the purposes of Act 20 Vict. c. 19.

244. DOCKING. g Choseley, formerly extra-parochial, is now a parish for the purposes of Act 20 Vict. c. 19.

* The decrease of population in the parish of Anmer is attributed to the migration of young persons to other parts.
 ‡ The decrease of population in the parish of Stanhoe is attributed to the migration of several families into the north of England.

245. FREEBRIDGE LYNN. † The increase of population in Fritcham-cum-Appleton is partly attributed to the erection of cottages for agricultural labourers.

‡ The decrease of population in Castle-Acre and West Bilney parishes is attributed to the fact that the return for 1851 included labourers temporarily employed on railway works.

* The decrease of population in Westacre is attributed to the removal of a number of labourers who were temporarily residing in the parish in 1851.

246. KINGS LYNN. † For the Borough of King's Lynn (or Lynn Regis), see Part I. The decrease of population in the borough is attributed partly to the fact that some hundreds of labourers temporarily employed on the Norfolk Estuary works were included in the return for 1851, and partly to the depression of the shipping trade owing to the transit of coals and goods by railway.

‡ The parish of St. Margaret, Kings Lynn, is comprised in the North, Middle, and South Sub-districts.

^a The decrease of population in the parish of West Lynn St. Peter is partly owing to the fact that labourers were temporarily employed in 1851 on the Norfolk Estuary works.

247. DOWNHAM. ^b The decrease of population in the parish of Wiggenhall St. Germans is attributed to the absence of labourers employed in 1851 on the Eau-Brink drainage works.

^c The decrease of population in the parish of Tottenhill is attributed to emigration.

^d In the parish of Holme-next-Runcton the decrease of population is attributed to emigration and to the entrance of young men into the army.

^e A small part of Stow-Bardolph parish, lying on the Tongs Drain, is in Downham Sub-district (247: 2).

^f The decrease of population in the parish of Wimbotsham (part of which lying on the Tongs Drain is in Downham Sub-district, 247: 2) is mainly attributed to the removal of dilapidated cottages.

^g These parts of Wimbotsham and Stow-Bardolph parishes are on the Tongs Drain; the areas of the entire parishes are returned in Wiggenhall Sub-district (247: 1).

^h The area of Roxham is returned with that of Ryston.

ⁱ The decrease of population in Hilgay parish and Welney Chapelry is mainly attributed to emigration, and the introduction of machinery for agricultural purposes. The other part of Upwell parish is in Wisbech District (193., Div. III.).

^k The decrease of population in the parish of Wretton is attributed to migration to towns.

248. SWAFFHAM. ¹ The decrease of population in the parish of Swaffham is attributed to emigration, and to the fact that the return for 1851 included labourers employed on railway works. The remainder of Swaffham parish is in Saham-Toney Sub-district (248: 2).

^m The decrease of population in Oxborough parish is attributed to the removal of cottages.

ECCLESIASTICAL DISTRICTS.

TABLE (A.)—HOUSES and POPULATION enumerated on April 8th, 1861, in NEW DISTRICT PARISHES and ECCLESIASTICAL DISTRICTS, formed, under the Authority of various Acts of Parliament, by the Ecclesiastical Commissioners—the Commissioners for building New Churches—and the Bishops of the several Dioceses.

 The boundaries of these Ecclesiastical sub-divisions are not generally known, and considerable difficulty has in some cases been experienced in preparing from the Census returns a statement of the population. The numbers here given have been in every instance submitted to the inspection of the Incumbents of the various Ecclesiastical Districts and New Parishes, but their absolute correctness cannot be vouched for.
 The return does not include persons on board vessels lying in waters contiguous to the Districts or Parishes.
 Where the original limits of an Ecclesiastical District have been altered by a Supplemental Order, the return of houses and population applies to the District as it stood on the date of the Census.
